I'm an antiquated piece of technology, reaching out to you from a technology graveyard. At one time, millions depended on my services, but it's a classic example of technology whose amazement factor was quickly replaced by the next step of evolution.

Hello!

quarter, and margins this balance sheet continue, it been improved as a percentage of average assets (annualized) by 27 basis points to 2.59% from 2.86% over this period.

Other relevant points for the quarter were that net interest income declined 13%, reflecting lower average earning assets (down 19%), though this decline was partially offset by margin improvement to 3.12% for the fourth quarter of 2010 from 2.98% in the year-ago quarter. Investing securities gains and losses, noninterest income increased 3% to $457,000 for 2010's fourth quarter from $445,000 in the year-ago quarter, with the majority of the growth due to 8% growth in customer service fees over this time period.

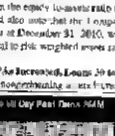
Possible for the years 2010 and 2009 also included foreclosure-related expenses, elevated provisions and security gains. And as was the case with 2010's fourth quarter results, the normalized earnings comparisons were a good deal better than those for the reported results. The adjusted net loss available to shareholders (after preferred dividends) was $5.0 million, or $0.02 per diluted share for the year 2010, compared to $3.9 million, or $0.07 per diluted share, in the year-ago period. However, pretax income before the provision, security gains and foreclosure expenses that other preferred dividends was $32 million in the year 2010, versus $0.5 million in the year-ago.

Strategy of Keeping in Asset Growth, has Boosted the Margin

A big part of the Company's recent strategy has been to control the balance sheet to ensure its loans both margins and top tier ratios as a conservative risk profile. The Bank has been quite successful in doing so, and as was mentioned earlier has maintained excellent efficiency through cost containment while the loan contracted. For example net loans declined 6% from year-end 2009 to year-end 2010 while deposits decreased 16% and asset levels were down 13%. This strategy contributed in the 70 basis point margin improvement to 3.46% for the year 2010 from 2.76% in 2009 and allowed for an increase in the equity to-assets ratio to 7.8% at December 31, 2010 from 7.4% at December 31, 2009. We would also note that the Company's major regulatory ratios continued to exceed the regulatory requirements at December 31, 2010, with a leverage ratio of 7.8% (versus 5% for the mid-market) and a total capital to risk weighted assets ratio of 11.5% (versus 10% is the regulatory minimum.

While NPAs Increased, Loans 30 to 89 Days Past Due Declined

Although nonperforming assets increased to $31.0 million, or 1.1% of total assets at year end 2010 which was up from $20.2 million (1.7% of total assets) at September 30, 2010 and $17.5 million (2.6% of assets) at the year ago date, two were encouraged that 30 to 89 day past due loans declined from $8.1 million at September 30, 2010 to $5.0 million at year end 2010. Charge offs were another factor on which the fourth quarter results fell to a decline in the allowance. Although the reserve ratio which is the allowance to loans are still in line with many other NC public traded banks. As of December 31, 2010 the all source for loan losses totaled $6.4 million, or 1.87% of assets versus $6.2 million, or 2.00% of assets at the year-ago date.



Projected Lowest

Given that we expect the provision for loan losses to remain somewhat elevated in 2011, the net lowering our projections to $0.10 and loss available to shareholders of $1.7 million, or $0.18 per diluted share, in 2011. Our previous net view was for 2011 earnings to be about $0.34 per share. Based on Obviously, changes in economic conditions could greatly affect these figures. Random Stuff Sent From Your Fax Machine
Fax something interesting to 1-510-545-0990

to the right are pages that folks have faxed us recently. Click any thumbnail to see the large version and rate it for interestingness.

You can fax something interesting to 1-510-545-0990 (your boss will never notice, maybe) and it should appear here within a couple of minutes. (The number is in Northern California, USA. Long distance charges may apply.) Keep it clean & legal.

Fax single-page documents with no cover sheet. If you fax more than one page, only the last page will appear here. We try to snip off the top few pixels of the page where your company name and fax number should appear, but make no promises that this will actually work.

Get an e-mail alert when FaxToy receives a new fax.

crispier secret fried chicken

THAT'S COLONEL SANDERS'S FAMOUS 11 EVER HERBS AND SPICES. TO THIS DAY, HIS SECRET RECIPE HAS NEVER BEEN REVEALED, LEAVING PEOPLE EITHER TO SPECULATE (I'VE TRIED MANY DIFFERENT COMBINATIONS, I THINK THIS IS THE ONE) OR TO FIND OUT BY TASTING (BUY LIKE THE ORIGINAL). MAKE THIS, YOU'LL NEED A PRESSURE FRYER.

1 egg, beaten
1 cup buttermilk
One 3-pound chicken, cut into 6 pieces
1 cup all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon ground oregano
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 teaspoon dried sage
1 teaspoon dried basil
1 teaspoon dried marjoram
1 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons paprika
1 tablespoon onion salt
1 teaspoon garlic powder
2 tablespoons Accent
1 can lard (or one 3-pound can Crisco), enough to cover chicken in fryer (see Secret Recipe This)

Combine the egg and buttermilk in a large bowl. Soak the chicken pieces in the mixture.

Add the flour to a separate bowl and fold in all the herbs and spices. Roll the chicken in the seasoned flour until completely covered.

Add the lard to a pressure fryer and heat to 365°F. Be sure to follow the manufacturer's directions for your pressure fryer.

Use a utensil to lower 4 pieces of the chicken into the hot oil and lock the lid in place. Be careful not to burn yourself with the hot oil.

Allow to fry for 8 to 10 minutes, until the chicken is golden brown and thoroughly cooked.

Once the pieces are cooked, release the pressure according to the manufacturer's directions and remove the chicken to paper towels or a wood rack to drain.

Repeat with the remaining 2 pieces of chicken

Makes 6 pieces

The real secret in making this the Accent in the recipe and using a pressure fryer!

Make sure the oil is at 365°F before frying the chicken. To avoid making it mess, use a utensil when adding the chicken. Quickly lock the lid on the pressure fryer once all the pieces of chicken have been added.

For crispier chicken, use Crisco instead of lard and double-coat the chicken with the flour mixture.

Integrated call recording – Record your calls for training, risk assessment and to check on your agents. Simple intuitive and ready to go.

Web-based portal – Your administration staff can easily login into their own portal to view calls agents or other settings

No hardware necessary – You don't need to purchase large servers, phones or similar hardware You can work directly from the computer

Wireless Telephone Systems

Overview

A system that is tailored to your specific needs in any condition or location. It is not always practical to have wired desk phones. Warehouses new building constructions, and vast areas that are unfeasible for wired communications systems can all be serviced Wireless systems allows a convenient and efficient deployment for staff that are regularly walking around, or do not have a traditional office.

Features

Cost effective – Wireless deployments can usually run on already deployed systems, such as WiFi (802.11), Dect or similar wireless technologies.

Hand-off support – Walk & talk from one end of your building without dropping a call.

Advanced options – From IVR, to on hold messages, your system can run any number of options.

Coverage – From a small facility to a loud warehouse, we have you covered.

Custom Development

Overview

No company is ever the same, and it is likely that your communication needs are different as well. Most offerings are based on current systems templates and needs If your requirements differ from out of the box products, we can work with you in the development of a hybrid of solutions, or a fully custom solution We excel at working with our clients to develop a custom system that is perfect for your company

Features

No company is the same – So why should your needs be? Let us work with you to develop a solution that will work exactly as needed

One number to call – Getting services from many providers usually leads to frustration from finger pointing when something goes wrong. Since we develop the solution from A to Z, you can rest assured that there s only one number to call to get it right.

Custom "out of box" deployment Completely custom communications and data systems are deployed just as if they were pre-packaged for you.

Love and Chicken Soup

or

Nutrition and the Terminally Ill

by

Synthia L. Cathcart, R.N.

A comedian once told his mother that he had only a short time to live. Upon hearing the distressing news his mother said "Sit down. I'll make you some chicken soup." The man asked "Do you really think this will help me now?" His mother responded with a hopeful smile "It couldn't hurt."

Many caregivers for terminally ill patients feel much the same way. Because food is symbolic of love and nurturing, it is extremely difficult for family members to see their loved ones have no desire or be unable to eat. A common reaction is to want to begin using nutritional supplements, tube feedings or even use I.V. nutrition with the idea that "it couldn't hurt." Published texts now indicate that the use of forced nutrition in terminally ill persons is now or questionable benefit and may actually worsen a patient's condition.

Findings recently published in several studies point out that intravenous nutrition or forced feeding can lead to several harmful effects in the terminally ill:

1. The rate of tumor growth may increase. Feedings may provide more nourishment for the tumor than the patient which will actually shorten the life expectancy.

2. Forced feeding with oral supplements or tube feedings can increase the patient's GI-distress-causing them unnecessary suffering.

3. Serious infections are often an occurrance associated with the use of I.V. nutrition (TPN).

4. True weight gain with these methods is marginal. The gain is usually attributed to fluid retention.

When a caregiver sees their family member losing less and less to eating, none at all, it is often the first time they face the realization that their loved one is going to die soon. If they can keep the patient eating "They will live longer, right?" It is difficult for loving family members to understand that by pressuring or forcing a patient to eat their death won't be put off and their suffering may be increased.

This does not mean there is nothing that can be done when the appetite begins to decrease. It is helpful to have small frequent meals. If any supplements are added the homemade variety is best tolerated. Puddings, gravies, soups and milkshakes can be made with whole milk fortified with powdered milk. Hard candy helps to moisten a dry mouth and adds calories at the same time. Medications to control nausea and vomiting may be helpful in allowing the patient who desires to eat to do so as comfortably as possible.

However, in spite of all the interventions, there will come a time in most terminal illnesses when a patient no longer feels any desire to eat and in fact may be repulsed by food. When this occurs, no matter how upsetting to the family, the patient should not be pressured or forced into eating. The caregiver needs to be reassured that they are doing their duty by their loved one by not insisting on artificial nutrition. They also need reassurance that their loved one is not trying to commit suicide or becoming so depressed that they won't eat. This is part of the terminal process. Allowing the patient not to eat is in no way negligent, rather it is in the best interest of the patient. At this time the family may need more constant reassurance than the patient.

The issue of nutrition is probably one of the most guilt inducing, frustrating and emotionally charged issues that terminally ill patients and their families ever deal with but with proper teaching and emotional support both the family and the patient can make informed decisions based on what is best for the patient, allowing the patient to live and die as comfortably as possible. What is best sometimes means HOLD THE CHICKEN SOUP and substitute LOVE.

YES, I HAVE THE BLOOD OF SETH RICH ON MY HANDS.
BUT WHAT DIFFERENCE DOES IT MAKE. YOU PEOPLE
ARE SO STUPID, YOU CARE ABOUT RUSSIA

Model Paragraph

Are you one of the millions of people who have read Dan Brown's thriller The Da Vinci Code? If not, you owe it to yourself to check it out. This controversial novel has been denounced by some, but it can be enjoyed as a mystery even if the reader is not familiar with all of the religious references. One of the ways Brown keeps the reader engaged is by creating memorable characters that include a Harvard symbologist and a French cryptologist who team up to solve an ancient puzzle. Brown made me feel as if I were right beside the characters attempting to solve the puzzle while trying to outwit others who sought the same prize. Brown even hints at a love interest between the two main characters, making this a bit of a romance as well. Another way Brown kept me reading was to shift the point of view for each chapter. This gives the reader insight into several characters' minds and also adds to the realism of the story. Although there are 105 chapters in this book, they are short (sometimes only one or two pages) and therefore keep the action moving, much like the changing scenes in a movie. Because the chapters are short, I always felt as if I could read just one more before putting down the book, and, as a result, I finished the entire 454 pages in two days. A third reason I was so intrigued by this novel is because I have visited some of the places that make up the setting of the book. I could easily picture the Louvre in Paris and have studied some of the paintings that are part of the plot. Apparently, many other readers feel that same way; this book has become so popular that it has a website devoted to it. Although I believe that Brown wrote The Da Vinci Code for entertainment, it does make me think about symbolism in artwork as well as about the myths, legends, and secrets surrounding the great thinkers of the past and the present.

FARM NEWS

Outstanding in the Field

I had heard of this traveling, fine dining experience in the fields of farms across the United States. It was not until the trucks trailers filled with tables and chairs and staff appeared on our farm that I got the pi n -- Outstanding in the Field and the dinner happens to be an outstanding meal while stand ng in a field. I get it.

It was a bit of a mystery where the dinner was actually going to be held. We suspected that they would organize their long row of tables near the fig orchard on a bench of soil that overlooks the Mission fields of the farm. The spot they picked was where the Mission Fig met the Candystripe figs. a long and straight patch that is a d rt road in the summer and early in the fall gets a ditch pulled through it to facilitate the rainwater that runs off the hills through the farm and into the creek.

It was a beautiful even ng for June the high temperature for the day was in the low 80's which was splendid considering the late june presence for one hundred degree plus days. A quick farm tour was followed by dinner. Summer squash from the field by the office the first cherry tomatoes from the field by the creek figs from the orchard that we were being shaded by coupled with the products from a few other local farmers and wine winery came together to make a beautiful meal on the farm.

They did pick a nice spot to set up the tables. It was a location that I never paid much attention to. While sitting there I admired our Candystripe fig orchard that is full and bursting with fruit that will harvest in August. Behind me was a fig orchard that is missing quite a few trees this was the motivation needed to focus on getting those trees ordered to fill in the trees that the gophers ate for dinner last year. To the left and right were guests and the end of the tables was met by background of rolling golden hills speckled with olive green oak trees. It was a magical night in a field in Capay.

Enjoy your boxes this week. -- Thaddeus

IN THE BOX

CUCUMBERS

Cucumbers are very low in calories – just 15 calories per cup! They are also a great source of potassium fiber and antioxidants such as vitamins A, C & K.

You can store your cucumbers at room temperature for a day or two but they are best stored in the refrigerator in the crisper drawer for several days.

Wash your cucumbers thoroughly in cold water just before use. Sometimes cucumbers have prickles and may require a light scrub when washing.

Serving suggestions.

– Add to a vegetable or fruit salad

– Pair with watermelon and mint and make a salad

– Dip in a mix of plain yogurt and sour cream with Greek seasoning or your favorite dressing.

– Top your sandwiches cucumber slices.

Easy: If you prefer to watch your nutrition - to see things, you are given to buy a can of these newborn, the brine shrimp which really just grow up big.

The decapsulated eggs are ready to feed the live brine shrimp when the eggs are fully mature and not partially consumed by the brine.

Brine eggs are easy to possess in each tank with the included fan, increasing energy and no more empty egg cases visible on the sides of the glass when you thanks including a non-animal fish that no energy eating, quality, nutrient in the eggs.

When you don't have oxygen through the daily maintenance of what is working, or a new batch of live brine shrimp, needs good aeration, you cannot hatch of live brine shrimp.

In fact, most of the fry in these first weeks of our fry is free newly hatched fry and shrimp. We recommend to many of the new aspects newly ready to feed live shrimp.

However, our Google will give you suggestions and a detailed details for the species in your area. Hatched fry and while we're not suggest to you and how the shrimp, we will recommend to adding from newly hatched shrimp to feeds larger fry, due to the fact, the fry - decapsulated brine shrimp has a bit more energy and can animal with it than live baby shrimp.

When you first feed your fry, verify for decapsulated small or mature eggs - by seeking the shell - not more 15 minutes on a glass of the tank water - the will be fresh, the eggs are edge down, some of specific and fry.

After a month or so you can then add the decapsulated brine shrimp directly into the tank with the fish to give now.

If the fish have their own fish tank to eat, then eggs don't give your the whole fry back, and the tank after a time to numbers.

Distortion of Circular Trace

Rather than using a conventional transformer for the signal source, I used an old wall wart. It was originally made for an early TI calculator and was rated at 3.3 VAC. My voltmeter shows an output of 7.8 VAC under light loading. One thing I've noticed is that when viewing a capacitor signature with a circular shape the circle is rather lumpy (0.1uF capacitor/reference pot at 25k ohms). I think this is due to saturation of the transformer core. I've heard that it's rather common to design cheap transformers that way.

Rather than use a fixed reference resistor such as is used in the schematics I've seen, I used a 1 K resistor in series with a 100k pot. The dial was then calibrated for resistance in ohms. By adjusting the pot for either Unoccupancy The absence of any human activity in a property. Property owned by a business or dwelling is sometimes described as unoccupied when there are long periods of time when it is empty but not unoccupied.

Uberrimae Fidei A principle of insurance law that states that the insured must be able to rely on the honesty and cooperation of the insurer and the insurer must act in good faith on the consumer's behalf. It is also known as utmost good faith.

Vacancy The absence of people and personal property from a building or premises. Property insurance often restricts claims for damage to properties that have been vacant for a certain period of time.

Vandalism and Malicious Mischief (VMM) Protection against damage caused by vandals. May be added by endorsement to the ISO basic form or broad coverage to many other Property forms.

Vicarious Liability Legal responsibility for a person even though they did not commit the act or cause the damage (e.g. the owner of a motor vehicle might be vicariously responsible for injuries even though they were not driving the car at the time of the accident).

Warranty A statement that is guaranteed to be true and is relied upon. Some types of insurance policies contain terms in the absence of fraud, statements by representatives (often referred to as the 'sole representations') are not part of the contract and cannot be relied upon by the insured. Examples of warranties include requirements for certain safeguards, such as a sprinkler system to be fitted in a building. Breach of this type of warranty may void the policy.

Workers' Compensation Insurance Insurance that covers an employer's obligations under Workers' Compensation laws which make the employer responsible for medical bills and lost wages of employees who are injured on the job. Workers' Compensation coverage also includes separate coverage for Employers' Liability.

X.C.U. Exclusion An exclusion often found in a Commercial General Liability policy that excludes loss due to explosion, collapse or underground hazards.

a The Hardy Weinberg principle states that a population will remain genetic equilibrium if and only if i No mutations occur
   ii Individuals neither enter or leave the population through migration iii The population is large iv Individuals mate randomly
   v Natural selection does not occur

7 All populations of a species may exist for a relatively long time or all close to genetic equilibrium. Then this equilibrium may be interrupted by a brief period of rapid genetic change in which speciation occurs

8 A phylogenetic tree shows the inferred evolutionary relationships among various biological species based upon similarities and differences in their physical and/or genetic characteristics

9 Linnaeus developed a system of grouping organisms into hierarchical categories. He placed structurally similar organisms into a group called species, similar species into a larger group called genus. Similar genera into a family. Similar families were placed in an order, similar orders into class and similar classes into phylum. Finally he placed phylum into plant or animal kingdom

5.4. Problems uncovered by PDF FTS in leading PDF products

Here's one example of a real set of problems uncovered by a PDF FTS test case. This test case is a PDF graphic state parameter test which uses different fonts/sizes. One would expect this test to be a very simple test case but please note all of the different bugs that was uncovered by this PDF FTS test case including Adobe's Acrobat 8 Professional product. This problem is one of many other issues we have observed using the PDF FTS product on leading PDF products.

Phone Provisioning Guide

Polycom 4000

The following guide will walk you through the process of provisioning your Polycom 4000 phone to work on FluentCloud's hosted phone system. Please note that you may contact a FluentStream Support Technician to assist you with this provisioning process. To contact support dial (303) GO-CLOUD and Select Option 2 for Support.

Step 1—Connect Your Phone

Securely connect Polycom phone to your network router. Be sure that all cables are properly inserted in the correct ports.

Step 2—Reset Phone to Factory Default

Before you begin configuring your phone to work with FluentCloud you will first need to restore the Polycom phone to original factory settings. To do this, hold down the following four keys simultaneously (6, 8, and *).

After holding down for a few seconds the phone will prompt you to enter a password. The default password is (456). Please note that some VoIP providers configure their own password. If the default password (456) does not work please contact a FluentStream representative for further assistance. After you've entered the password select Enter and the phone will reset to factory default. When the phone begins to boot up you will see a Polycom welcome screen and one of the softkeys will be labeled Setup (3rd from the left). Click Setup and proceed to the next step.

STEP 3—Phone Configuration

After you click Setup you will be prompted to enter the phone's password. The password is (456). You will now be taken to the main menu. Scroll down and select Server Menu. You will now see the Server Type and the default shown is FTP. Click Edit and using your arrow keys scroll and select HTTP. You will now see the Server Address and the default shown is 0.0.0.0. Click Edit and using your keypad enter the following address (http://voip.fluentcloud.com/p). Please note that the : and / symbols can be found by pressing the # key on your keypad and the . symbol can be found by pressing the  key on your keypad. Once you've entered the Server Address click Exit twice and then select Save and Reboot.

STEP 4—Complete Provisioning

Once you have completed the steps outlined your phone will begin a reboot process that may take several minutes to complete. Once the boot process has completed your Polycom phone should be registered to work with FluentCloud. Please contact a FluentStream Support Technician to assist you if the phone is not working properly. To contact support dial (303) GO-CLOUD and Select Option 2 for Support.

Important changes to your plan coverage

We're committed to your well-being. And we want you to have the information you need to get services and use your benefits. So take a moment to review the changes we've made to your plan. They'll take effect January 1, 2015.

What you'll find in this packet

The 2015 Annual Notice of Changes (ANOC) and Evidence of Coverage (EOC) are guides to using your benefits. The formulary is a listing of the drugs your plan covers.

- ANOC: The ANOC tells you the differences between your current plan benefits and the benefits you'll have beginning January 1, 2015. It's important to review these changes now so you'll know what to expect next year.
- EOC: The EOC gives you detailed information about your Medicare coverage from January 1 – December 31, 2015. It explains how to get coverage for the services you need. It's an important, legal document—make sure to keep it in a safe place.
- Formulary: The formulary shows generic and brand name drugs covered by your plan. You should check to see if the drugs you take are covered. And see if there are quantity limits or if prior authorization or step therapy is required. To help you do this, we added a chart at the end of this letter. The chart allows you to list the drugs you take and make notes from the formulary.

Other things you should know

Here are some other things to keep in mind as you look over your documents.

- You can view your claims and benefit information online anytime. Just go to My Online Services at member.rxhy.com and register with your member ID. If you have an iPhone® or Android™ smartphone, you can download and use our new mobile app too.

20 Laughter Yoga Exercises

Research suggests that the simple act of laughing is a powerful form of complementary medicine. Until now, there has been no reliable and effective system to deliver laughter. Humor was the only tool available but it is not reliable and seldom leads to continuous hearty laughter.

Laughter Yoga is a breakthrough laughter delivery system that enables a person to laugh continuously for 15 to 20 minutes with short breaks of yogic breathing.

Below are 20 Laughter Yoga exercises to get you started. Try to practice them with others and appreciate that they are indeed highly incongruous. And choosing to laugh at and when you want to is not a sign of silliness, it is a sign of maturity.

These exercises will shift your mood curve if you give them a chance for at least 10 minutes.

5 Classic Laughter Yoga Exercises

1. Cell Phone Laughter: Hold an imaginary cell phone to your ear and laugh.
2. Gradient Laughter: Take a smile, giggle, then laugh slowly and gradually increase in tempo and volume.
3. Greeting Laughter: Greet everybody the way you normally greet (e.g. shake hands) and replace words with laughter.
4. Hearty Laughter: Spread your arms up, look up and laugh heartily as you direct your laughter to come straight from your heart.
5. Think of a socially awkward situation and laugh at it (e.g. shoe laces untied, shaving cream behind your ears...)

5 Laughter Yoga Exercises To Release Stress

6. Argument Laughter: Voice your discontent in laughter sounds only, or in gibberish. You can be as passionate as you like and point fingers if you want, just don't hit (or even threaten to hit) anything or anybody.
7. Credit Card Bill Laughter: Open an imaginary credit card bill (or any other letter that represents a bad news to you) and burst out laughing the second you look at what's inside.
8. Electric Shock Laughter: Imagine that everything and everybody you touch gives you a shock of static electricity. Jump backwards and laugh each time it happens (make it happen a lot).
9. I Don't Know Why I Am Laughing Laugh (fake is perfectly fine) and shrug your shoulders and make a big smile as you look at yourself in a mirror or anybody else who might be there and try to convey the message with your eyes and body language "I absolutely don't know why I am laughing"

We wish you a, an uh,

and a smashy
new ear...

October 19, 2015
AHEIDHCHAD

The records of the National Electrical Benefit Fund (NEBF) indicate that you have earned a non-forfeitable (vested) interest in an NEBF pension benefit.

The estimated accrued monthly benefit you have earned from the NEBF as of year-end 2014 is shown on the back of this letter. The amount is based on vested service credits and is shown in the form of a straight life annuity benefit.

The amount of your monthly benefit may be affected by your marital status and certain benefit elections that are available to you. If you are married at your benefit commencement date and do not elect otherwise (with the consent of your spouse), your benefit will be paid in the form of a qualified joint and 50 percent survivor annuity. This annuity will provide you with a smaller lifetime monthly benefit than the straight life annuity, and will also provide a lifetime benefit after your death to the person who was your spouse at your benefit commencement date (if that person survives you). The amount of your monthly benefit may also be affected if you are eligible for and elect one of the NEBF's early retirement benefits.

Further information on your benefit options and a discussion of the circumstances, if any, which may result in a reduction of accrued benefits are contained in the NEBF's Summary Plan Description. You may access your own information by logging into NEBF Online Benefits. The Summary Plan Description and NEBF Participant Pension Application are both available on our website, www.nebf.com. You may also obtain a copy of the Summary Plan Description by writing to:

National Electrical Benefit Fund
2400 Research Blvd, Suite 500
Rockville, MD 20850-3266

This letter is for your information and no response is necessary. However, if you have any questions about this statement, please write to the NEBF office at the address above. To protect your privacy, we are unable to answer any questions about your accrued benefits over the telephone.

Sincerely,

Lawrence J. Bradley

Driver Selection Criteria

An individual's past driving history and driving experience has been proved to be a valuable resource in identifying vehicle operators subject to being involved in future accidents. For these reasons Management should strongly consider limiting the utilization of youthful drivers in business operations. Also Management should obtain a Motor Vehicle Record (MVR's) on each employee who may operate a vehicle on Company business from their State of residence or another reputable source as a part of the driver selection process for all prospective drivers. For existing drivers MVR's should be checked on an annual basis and in conjunction with any involvement in an accident. The following guidelines establish minimum standards and are provided to assist you in establishing your own criteria.

a. Based on accident/violation history, an individual's driver record becomes unacceptable if one or more of the following exists.

- Two or more at-fault accidents in the last three years
- One or more Major violations in the last three years
- Any combination of at-fault accidents and Minor violations which equal three or more in the last three years

b. Designation of Major and Minor violations are based on a survey of state point systems. Violations receiving the higher number of points are classed as Major. These are considered serious in nature.

Major Violations include:

- Driving under the influence of alcohol
- Driving under the influence of drugs
- Negligent homicide arising out of the use of a motor vehicle
- Using a motor vehicle for the commission of a felony
- Aggravated assault with a motor vehicle
- Permitting an unlicensed person to drive
- Reckless driving
- Speed contest/Racing
- Hit and Run driving
- Speeding 20 mph or more over the speed limit
- Operating a vehicle without a valid drivers license

Minor Violations include:

- All moving violations not listed as Major violations

Families of SMA

Families of SMA is now able to offer Wagons to all newly diagnosed type I families. Families of SMA will send the wagons to all newly diagnosed families as soon as they contact FSMA and request one. Once the babies lose muscle tone and cannot adequately support themselves or have their eyes low and must remain horizontal, the wagons are beneficial for transporting them around the house, yard, doctors' offices, hospitals, stores, etc. The babies love to be pulled around in the wagons and we believe it is more comfortable for them to be moved from one location to another in them as opposed to being picked up and carried frequently for feedings, diaper changes, etc., particularly after they become more hypotonic. Additionally, attachments can be added to the wagon to hang favorite toys, tie balloons, or hang bottle or feeding bags. For comfort, we recommend lining the wagon with egg crate foam, memory foam, or the sheepskin blanket provided in the care package from FSMA.
To request a wagon contact us at familysupport@fsma.org or call 1-800-886-1762

LA PRÉVENTION DE LA RÉCIDIVE POUR L'ALCOOL AU VOLANT

L'alcool au volant est un problème social autant aux Etats-Unis qu'au Canada et les méthodes préventives pour réduire le taux de recidive sont similaires dans les deux pays. En général les américains ont une application de la loi plus punitive que les canadiens qui favorisent davantage la réduction des méfaits et la dejudiciarisation. Toutefois, dans le cas de l'alcool au volant le constat est unanime, les lourdes peines emprisonnement ne sont pas efficaces pour diminuer l'occurrence de ce crime, elles peuvent même entraîner l'effet inverse chez le délinquant. Les récidivistes de conduite avec des facultés affaiblies ont la plupart du temps un problème de consommation d'alcool. Il faut donc traiter cette dépendance pour pouvoir être en mesure d'influencer le niveau d'infraction, au lieu de les punir sévèrement, ce qui risque de les ancrer dans leur consommation abusive. Il est aussi possible de réduire les méfaits avec des techniques technologiques telles que l'éthylomètre qui empêche de démarrer son véhicule avec un taux d'alcool dans le sang qui dépasse la limite permise.

Le fonctionnement au Canada

Au Canada il y a plusieurs programmes mis en place pour réduire l'occurrence de la conduite avec des facultés affaiblies tel que "alcofrein" et les "alcooliques anonymes" qui sont des traitements thérapeutiques pour les individus qui ont des problèmes d'alcool.

by Franz Kafka

Many argue that the words of wise men are always metaphorical, useless in our daily lives, which is all we really have. When a wise man says "Go over there," he doesn't mean that we should go over to the other side, something one can easily do if the outcome achieved by reaching the other side has any value. He means, rather, some mythical over there, something that we cannot know, something he is unable to describe any more exactly, something that cannot help us here. All that these metaphors basically say is that the incomprehensible is incomprehensible, and we already knew that. But that which we concern ourselves with on a daily basis is something else.

One person says: "Why are you exerting yourself? Should you deign to pursue metaphors, you will yourself have become a metaphor and as a result, free from the tribulations of the day."

Another says: "I'll wager that that is also a metaphor."

The first one says: "You have won."

The second one says: "But unfortunately only metaphorically."

The first one says: "No, in reality, metaphorically, you have lost."

Windows® Fax and Scan

One place to scan and fax your documents

FAX. You can send and receive faxed documents on your computer without using a fax machine. You can also print, e-mail, or save a copy of your faxes.

To get started:

1. Connect a phone line to your computer.

   If your computer needs an external modem, connect the phone to the modem, and then connect the modem to your computer.

2. On the toolbar, click New Fax.

3. Follow the instructions in the setup wizard to connect to a fax modem, and then, when you're finished, create your fax.

To connect to a fax server instead of a modem, contact your system administrator. For more help with faxing, click the Help button on the toolbar.

SCAN. After you add a scanner to your computer, you can preview documents or pictures before you scan them, and then adjust your scan settings for better results. You can also fax or e-mail scanned files to someone else.

To get started:

1. Connect your scanner to your computer by following the instructions that came with your scanner, and then place a document or picture on the scanner.

2. In Windows Fax and Scan, at the bottom of the left pane, click Scan.

3. On the toolbar, click New Scan.

4. Choose the scan settings you want to use, and you're ready to scan.

Use the options on the toolbar to fax, e-mail, print, or copy scans at any time. For more help with scanning, click the Help button on the toolbar.

How to Repair a Corrupt Windows 7 Installation

By Marco Chiapetta

PCWorld | NOV 4, 2011 8:00 PM PT

Every operating system needs an occasional repair job, and Windows 7 is no exception. Whether the source of the problem is corrupt data, a particularly brutal piece of malware, or some other serious issue you'll occasionally have to reinstall your copy of Windows.

Wiping your hard drive and performing a fresh installation can be a huge headache, but fortunately there's a way to repair a corrupt Windows 7 installation while keeping all your programs, personal data, and user accounts intact. With Windows 7, you can perform an in-place upgrade installation to repair a flaky existing install. Though technically designed to upgrade older Windows operating systems like Vista, the in-place upgrade installation option can also be used to repair an existing installation of Windows 7.

The in-place Upgrade installation involves multiple stages, starting with copying installation files to the destination drive and gathering existing files and settings.

The Pantheon Asia Library

New Approaches to the New Asia

No part of the world has changed so much in recent years as Asia, or awakened such intense American interest. But much of our scholarship, like much of our public understanding, is based on a previous era. The Asia Library has been launched to provide the needed information on the new Asia, and in so doing to develop both the new methods and the new approaches needed to understand it. Our purpose is not only to publish new work but to experiment with a wide variety of approaches which will reflect those new realities and their perception by those in Asia and the West.

Our books run at different levels and audiences, from the popular to the more scholarly, from high schools to the universities, from picture and documentary presentations. All books will be available in paperback.

Suggestions for additions to the Asia Library are welcome.

I posted a while ago— THIS is my room yesterday as well— Especially if you are not a fan of boxed pudding!!!

The pics are self explanatory and to make the "filling" you can use this recipe (Remember to cut your watermelon BEFORE you add the filling and topping— and pat it down really well with paper towels!!!)

Ingredients..

2 cans full fat coconut milk (13.5 oz cans) unflavored and unsweetened
1/3 cup powdered sugar or to taste (I would have to try it with Stevia and see how it turned out to avoid using powdered sugar)
1 - 4 Tbsp coconut flour or tapioca flour (add 1 Tbsp at a time)
2 Tbsp vanilla extract or to taste

Directions..
Chill the cans of coconut milk overnight in the fridge. Open the cans, drain off the clear liquid and transfer the cream to a chilled bowl, using a rubber spatula to scrape all the cream out of the cans beat the thick coconut cream in the chilled bowl with a hand mixer until thick and fluffy

計劃早日及安全復工的體能表格

引言

自一九九八年一月一日起，「職業安全及保險條例」(以下簡稱條例)包括了勞資雙方共同合作、努力推動受傷工人復工的要求。在安省一安排一個受傷工人復工是一個僱主和工人雙方的共同責任。這規則需列出某些必須程序。

體能表格

為計劃早日及安全復工而設的「體能表格」(即第 2647A 表格)是一種可協助勞資雙方履行復工責任的工具。表格填寫完成後能協助勞資雙方在工人早日及安全復工上作出適當的安排。這提供資料說明工人於受傷後的體能狀況，可使用的體力限制和工人是否需要一段指定的康復時間。勞資任何一方均可要求填寫最後表格，但該表格不能取代「第七號表格」(即僱主填寫的工傷或病情報告)或「第八號表格」(即醫護人員的首個工傷或病情報告)、索任何本局為要勞資雙方填報的表格。

工人同意發放體能資料的要明

工人必須簽署「體能表格」的第二部份，確定同意向其僱主提供其醫護人員所評定的體能資料。

勞資雙方於什麼情況下使用「體能表格」?

勞資雙方均可要求治療工人的健康護理專業人員填寫該表格，以便取得工人受傷後有關工人體能、行走、站立等能力的詳細體能資料，作為協助復工工人能夠適當工作之用。在工人復工作場所安排/策劃過程是很重要的，僱主能確認可能的工作範圍，為復工的一部份。

誰可填寫「體能表格」?

只有治療工人的健康護理專業人員才有資格填寫體能表格－所謂健康護理專業人員，是根據 1991 年的 The Regulated Professions Act 而訂，包括：醫生、物理治療師、物理治療師等。根據條例一僱主及其他醫護人員不會主動提出填寫體能表格－而只在工人或僱主的要求下才作填寫。

工作場所能否使用自製的表格?

工作場所可因應其個別工作環境而採用特別設計的表格以搜集體能資料。不過，本局不會支持給健康護理醫護人員填寫這些自製表格的費用，再者，個別工作場所於設計自製的體能表格時，不可以要求提供工人醫療或診斷的資料。

Backup Your Data and Save Your Business Thousands

Every business has precious digital data these days. However many have failed to plan for it's sudden loss and most of those who have are using risky failure prone solutions! How is your business planning for disaster recovery?

Myths and Facts of Backup Safety

Myth	Fact
Data loss is uncommon and unlikely to happen	In reality the number of cases behind data loss are extremely common. Loss can be caused by viruses, malware, or hardware failure generally caused by age, physical dropping or jostling (or even unpredictable power surges).
Backing up to DVD or Tape will keep data safe	The fact of the matter is DVDs even if kept unscratched, will suffer what is known as bit rot. The physical media itself may seem fine but if left alone will degrade over time. Magnetic media (tapes) are particularly vulnerable.
If you have a large network and backup to a central server, you are doing all you can	As it turns out, network backups using "Disk to Disk" methods do tend to be the best, however unless the data is stored on a server designed to tolerate hardware failure the result can be even more disastrous. Putting all your eggs in one basket, even with RAID (hard drive redundancies) arrays, cost businesses just like yours thousands to tens of thousands every day.
In the event of data loss, I could simply pay to have it recovered.	While data recovery is certainly possible, there is no guarantee. Importantly recovery of data is usually prohibitively expensive typically pricing starts in the thousands of dollars.

Total Enterprise Computing Can Ensure the Safety of Your Business

Let TEC become your data safety provider today! Experts in backing up data, we not only understand the inherent complexities of most existing backup solutions but also the critical importance of your company's data. Ingredients:

Servings: 8-9 | Units: US | Metric

3 lbs country-style boneless pork ribs

2 medium onions, sliced

1 (12 ounce) can beer

2 cups of your favorite barbecue sauce (I like "Stubb's Original" for this recipe)

Directions

1. Brown the pork in a lightly sprayed skillet on all sides (about 7 minutes).
2. Place the ribs in an oven proof pan and scatter the onions all around them.
3. Pour in the beer and heat with a lit or on hot.
4. Bake at 375F until the pork is tender (1 1/2- 2 hours
5. Pour out the beer
6. Slather the pork with the BBQ sauce and bake uncovered for 1 more hour or until the meat is brown and the sauce is thick.
7. Enjoy.

Some conservatives are already trying to pop the Paul Ryan-for-speaker boomlet

For some conservatives, Rep. Paul Ryan (R-Wisconsin) isn't the savior they're looking for to end the House GOP's gridlock.

A wide swath of Republicans are urging Ryan to run to replace outgoing House Speaker John Boehner (R-Ohio) after his heir apparent stunned Washington on Thursday by ending his own bid for the job.

Everyone from Boehner himself to 2012 Republican presidential nominee Mitt Romney, with whom Ryan ran as his vice-presidential pick, is reportedly urging Ryan to step up.

Ryan initially refused to even consider the possibility but is now apparently mulling it over.

But some Boehner antagonists are letting it be known that Ryan, the chairman of the powerful Ways and Means Committee, is not their ideal alternative.

The Hill documented some of this dissent on Friday.

Rep. Tim Huelskamp (R-Kansas) criticized one of Ryan's biggest legislative achievements, a budget agreement he once reached with Sen. Patty Murray (D-Washington), then the chair of the Senate Budget Committee.

Rep. John Fleming (R-Louisiana) insisted that Ryan is more of a speaker contender in the minds of the media than in the legislative chamber itself.

"I think that's more media-driven. I think that's you guys who keep talking about Paul Ryan," Fleming told The Hill. "Paul has made it clear he's not interested."

Some conservative news websites also criticized Ryan's conservative credentials. Breitbart News ran a pair of stories Friday titled "FLASHBACK: Paul Ryan Worked For John Boehner In College" and "Rep. Paul Ryan Backed Soviet-Style Law To Decide Workers' Wages." The Conservative Review published a piece titled, "Paul Ryan is the Absolute Worst Choice for Speaker."

And RedState's Erick Erickson warned that Ryan would be a "dangerous pick" for conservatives.

"In a world of modern media, Ryan would make an attractive Speaker with a young, fresh face and a comfortable demeanor in front of the camera. But he would make it very difficult for House conservatives because to oppose Ryan is, in the minds of much of the press, to oppose conservatism itself," Erickson wrote while detailing Ryan's work with establishment-oriented Republicans.

"That's not true. But that story line is already baked in."

Others conservatives aren't as critical. Rep. Justin Amash (R-Michigan), part of his chamber's right flank, told The Hill that Ryan would be better than either Boehner or House Majority Leader Kevin McCarthy (R-California), who shocked Washington by withdrawing his speaker bid on Thursday.

"I think that Paul Ryan would be a more acceptable candidate than the current leadership team primarily because he is not in the current leadership team," Amash said. "And I believe he'd provide a different approach."

PROGRAMMABLE ATTENUTORS, SPLITTER/COMBINERS

On a semi-custom bas e RF dev ces such as Programmable Attenuators Splitter/Combiners and Direc tional Couplers can be installed inside your CXM Chassis to furnish a complete turn-key test setup

PROGRAMMABLE ATTENUTORS

Relay based and solid state attenuators are available in a variety of step sizes (such as 1 dB, 2 dB, 4 dB, 8 dB etc.) and frequency ranges. Step size control is via Cytec's standard simple programming commands including attenuators as part of the switching systems permits the end user to conveniently, repeatable program precise signal attenuation steps. See Fig. 6

Fig. 6 Relay-based Programmable Attenuator

Fig. 6 Directional Coupler 10 dB

POWER DIVIDERS/COMBINERS

Are passive devices that offer high directivity and good port to port matching. 2-way, 4 way, 8 way and 16 way Power Dividers/Combiners can be included as part of your microwave system. Resistive and Reactive Dividers are offered that have low insertion losses and VSWRs and frequencies as high as 18 GHz. Contact factory for more information. See Fig. 7

Fig. 7 N Power Divider/Coupler

BIDECTIONAL COUPLERS

A Dectional Coupler has three ports. Input transmitted and coupled. It couples part of the transmission power to the coupled port by a know amount typically 10 dB -20 dB or -30 dB. The coupled output can be used to measure information (for exampe a power level and frequency) without interrupting the main RF power flow. See Fig.8.

CONTROL MODULES

IF SC IEEE488/RS232 16 and 32 Channel Control
The Module has both the IFFP488 (Talk/Listen) and the Rs232 features detailed in Applications Bulletin AP-5. The combination module is used on all CXM16 or CXM32 chassis.

IF S IEEE488/RS232 64 and 128 Channel Control
Th a Module has both the ICCC488 (Talker stan) and the Rs232 features detailed in Applications Bulletin AP-5. This combination module is used on a l CXM64, CXM128 or CXM256 chassis

IF-E LAN INTERFACE
This Module uses Ethernet TCP/IP to provide control from a Local Area Network as described in bulletin AP-5. It is available as an option on any mainframe chassis

MANUAL CONTROL OPTION

Manual Consoles are available for all mainframe chassis

CXM16 and CXM32 chassis can be purchased with optional pushbutton manual controls, PBM8 or PBM32.

CXM64, CXM128 and CXM256 mainframes can be built with with optional keypad manual controls MC-2.

Complainant or Respondent Attorneys

The Complainant and the Respondent have the right to have an attorney, but it is not a requirement in any part of the MCHR investigation process. If the Complainant or Respondent hires an attorney, the MCHR should receive a letter confirming that representation. All subsequent correspondence will then be sent directly to the Complainant or Respondent attorney.

Remedies For Discrimination

The Human Rights Act provides that remedies can be ordered when the MCHR finds, AFTER A PUBLIC HEARING, that a Respondent has engaged in an unlawful discriminatory practice. Such remedies include, BUT ARE NOT LIMITED TO, payment of backpay, hiring, reinstatement or promotion, the extension of full, equal and unsegregated public accommodations, any payment of actual damages, including compensation for pain, suffering & deprivation of civil rights. The Complainant has an obligation under the law to mitigate their damages by continuing to seek work during any periods of unemployment.

Questions???

The MCHR staff is here to assist both parties while the complaint is in our process. Do not hesitate to seek clarification on any part of the complaint process. Some of the issues we deal with are complex and you might want additional information. Copies of the Missouri Human Rights Act, and the MCHR's Rules and Regulations are available free of charge from our website at www.labor.mo.gov/hr

Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes can't open files because they don't have the applications used to create the documents.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software, and operating systems. Fonts, and graphics are not lost due to platform, software, and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone.
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web.

The Hawaiian Islands

The Hawaiian Islands are one of the most beautiful places on earth. The weather is friendly. The temperature ranges from 60-90 degrees all year long. It's a little warmer in summer and a little cooler in winter but every day is a beach day for somebody.

The environment is friendly. The physical beauty of Hawaii is almost unparalleled. Majestic mountains were created in all or most ages by volcanic activity that built these Islands three miles from the ocean floor. Wave action across endless eons of time created coral reefs, and then battered and broke them into reefs of white sand beach. One point on all of the center of the Pacific ensured that almost every plant and animal who would find a home here would become an invited guest.

There are no strangers in Paradise. Perhaps the most beautiful part of Hawaii is the genuine warmth of our people. We call it the spirit of Aloha. It has allowed a melting pot of cultures from all over the world to find common ground and a new home in this most gentle of places.

The Hawaii of your imagination is somewhere outside. You'll find it on the endless miles of beaches that ring our islands. Maybe you'll find it on one of the sixty seven golf courses. Or maybe you'll want to take a little excursion down the heavenly road to Hana.

Six Beautiful Islands to Choose From!

In Kauai you find breathtaking beauty absolutely from the breathtaking heights of the verdant Kokee forests to the magnificent Na Pali coast line. In the ever-changing colors of Waimea Canyon in the romance of an island Hanalei Bay the beauty of the Garden Island overwhelms your senses.

Oahu is an island of magnificent panoramas, ringed with white sand beaches, capped by towering volcanic peaks, and in between the mountains and the ocean has the playground of the Pacific.

The majestic leaps of Maui's humpback whales are the perfect symbol for the magic of this island, where natural wonders set your spirit free and the warm aloha of Maui's people fills your heart with a sense of belonging.

When you take your first breath of pure fresh Maui air, you know you've discovered a special place. The cares and stress of the everyday world begin to slip away. Come share the beauty and abundance of this natural island paradise where life moves at the slower, gracious pace of another age.

Dubbed the "Pineapple Island" Lanai was created as a pineapple plantation by the Dole Food Company Inc. for nearly 70 years. By 1993 pineapple was phased out in favor of more diversified agricultural crops, ranching, and resort development.

Known as the Big Island Hawaii is twice as large as all of the other major Hawaiian Islands combined. The Big Island is also the youngest of the island chain. At some 800,000 years of age it's also still growing. The Hawaii Volcanoes National Park contains one of the world's most active volcanoes which continues to pour into the sea adding to the shoreline.

Relax and Have Fun!

The main thing I remember is that the best way to enjoy your Hawaiian vacation is to get active. Take a golf clinic (wet or dry) ride the trolley ride the bus, rent a car, like her yet, rent a convertible. Put the top down and explore. Hike the trails. Visit the museums and historical sites. Find a new and undiscovered beach. Let your hair down and have fun. It really doesn't get any better than this.

The islands have a special place for you, but it's up to you to discover it.

Just remember: You're on vacation! Relax and have fun!

Hi

other it is a stream of insults in order to mentally breakdown your brother. Sickness in warfare is old as conflict itself. A warrior teasing his comrades for being sick in the field is also as old as conflict.

Mr E was informing anybody within earshot of my predicament. "Hey Fish, Chewy got shit everywhere."

Ike, the gunner of the vehicle approached as Junior Marines, "Hey ...Corporal Ike. Chewy shit himself."

Ike responded. "That's nice. 2nd platoon found a weapons cache. Grab the C-4, we're movin' in 5 mikes." He then calmly turned to me and added, "You smell like an infant. Change your pants."

I now stood on my vehicle facing the greatest dilemma of my life. In my left hand I held the trousers from my private embarrassment. In the right, I held the public one. It was my only two sets of camouflage bottoms. I gazed at the two pairs of pants with my eyes half open and my mouth dropped. I stared at these pants with a lifeless thousand yard stare. I had five minutes to make the decision of which trouser had the least amount of stomach problem on it. It was a tossup. I had learned early on in my Marine training that quick thinking can mean the difference between life and death. So I chose the first incident, put my bottoms on, sat in the driver's seat, and waited for movement.

The 15 minute drive to the open field where the weapons were to be detonated was the most miserable experience of my enlistment. As soon as we stopped off from our position, I felt it brewing again. What did I care? How worse could it get? I drove the massive vehicle weaving through back alleys of the ancient city and pushing through oxen herds. Sweat began to pour out of my brows as I held in my tears. On that drive, I became so consumed with the question of "should I just go again?" I was able to hold off long enough to arrive at the destination. As soon as my platoon pulled up to the detonation site, I hurled myself over the vehicle and made a mad dash for the open field.

The next part of the story is almost too graphic to print. To say the least, I wreaked havoc. The Marines of my company had gathered around to watch the spectacle at this point. They laughed and mocked me as I was struggling to save my health. The worst part was not that my fellow brothers-in-arms were laughing at me, but as I lifted my head I saw that the local peoples-who were originally drawn to the site by the "big boom" that was about to happen-were watching in horror as my bright white ass defamed their land. Men, women, and children saw this American in the worst of my existence. After their initial shock, they too began to cackle. It was the purest form of shock and awe. I slumped over on my side and held my arms up slowly as if it was my last dramatic breath.

"Mr B. Mr B," I said in a half-weeping, half moaning voice. "Shit paper! Give it!"

Mr B just stood there hesitantly as the timed detonation was drawing near.

"You fuckin' ass butt! Please!" I screamed.

Fig. Removing the inner race and cage from the outer race

10. Rotate the inner race out of the cage

11. If the boot is be reused, wrap vinyl tape around the spline part of the shaft so the boot will not be damaged when removed. Remove the boot from the shaft.

To install:

12. Clean the cage, ball bearings, and inner and outer races in solvent. Dry the parts thoroughly and inspect them. If any part is damaged or worn, the CV-joint assembly must be replaced.

13. Install the inner race into the cage, rotating the race until it is properly positioned.

14. Install the inner race and cage into the outer race, making sure that the beveled side of the inner race faces out.

15. Align the inner race and cage window with the outer race ball bearing land.

16. Tilt the inner race and cage far enough to install a ball bearing.

17. Repeat the previous step until all of the ball bearings have been installed.

18. Pack the outboard CV joint with the specified grease, moving the inner race, cage and ball bearings enough to ensure adequate coverage. Often the grease supplied in the replacement parts kit is meant to be divided in half, with half being used to lubricate the joint and half being used inside the boot.

19. Be sure to tape the shaft splines before installing the boots. Fill the inside of the boot with the specified grease and install the boot on the halfshaft.

20. Install a new stop ring, if needed.

NOTE
The circlip must not be re-used. A new circlip must be installed each time the outboard CV-joint is installed on the halfshaft.

21. Install the new circlip on the halfshaft. Start one end in the groove and work the circlip over the shaft and into the groove. This will avoid over expanding the circlip.

人間詞話

詞以境界爲最上。有境界則自成高格，自有名句。五代、北宋之詞所以獨絕者在此。有造境，有寫境，此理想與寫實二派之所由分。然二者頗難分別，則因大詩人所造之境必合乎自然，所寫之境亦必鎔於理想，故有有我之境，有無我之境。淚眼問花花不語，亂紅飛過秋千去，可堪孤館閉春寒，杜鵑聲裏斜陽暮，有我之境也。采菊東籬下，悠然見南山，寒波澹澹起白鳥，悠悠下有我之境也。有我之境，以我觀物，故物皆著我之色彩。無我之境，以物觀物，故不知何者爲我，何者爲物。古人爲詞，寫有我之境者爲多，然未始不能寫無我之境，此在豪傑之士能自樹立耳。無我之境，人惟於靜中得之。有我之境，於由動之靜時得之。故一優美，一宏壯也。自然中之物，互相關係，互相限制，此existenz之法則也。existenz之於上帝，及美術中之理想，則有變焉。上帝之意志，existenz之總和而已。美術則遺其關係限制之處，故能變現實之世界，而使之互相關係，互相限制，此理想派之所以優於寫實派也。雖然，此豈可以口舌爭哉。

At The Church

A minister was completing a temperance sermon. With great emphasis he said, "If I had all the beer in the world, I'd take it and pour it into the river."

With even greater emphasis he said, "And if I had all the wine in the world, I'd take it and pour it into the river."

And then finally, shaking his fist in the air, he said, "And if I had all the whiskey in the world, I'd take it and pour it into the river."

Sermon complete, he sat down.

The hymn leader stood very cautiously and announced with a smile, nearly laughing, "For our closing hymn, let us sing Hymn #365, "Shall We Gather at the River."

Adding Google Voice to FreePBX

By Bill on November 8 10 01:00 PM 22 Comments My Bookmarks

If you've moved a head to Asterisk 1.8 in production or are testing it out, you FreePBX as your configuration GUI, and want to add Google Voice as well, then inbound and outbound routing can easily be configured from FreePBX, here's a small how-to. Why is it not just a GUIpbx certified module comes along, there's some command-line work to do, but only for initial configuration.

References:

- Calling Using Google - Asterisk.org/Trixbox Wiki

How To Add Google Voice To FreePBX

Part 1 - In CLI shell

1. Refer to the Asterisk Wiki: Calling Using Google. We'll be following that as our guide.
1. From the command line, enter root or asterisk, verify that the res_jabber and chan_gtalk modules are loaded.

   - jdoe@[asterisk]:~$ asterisk -rx "module show | grep res_jabber
     res_jabber.so AJI - Asterisk Jabber Interface (
     jdoe@[asterisk]:~$ asterisk -rx "module show | grep chan_gtalk chan_gtalk.so Gtalk Channel Driver (

   - If one or both of those grep commands returns nothing, you need to build the modules (don't forget to have OpenSSL development libraries installed) and make sure they are loading at Asterisk startup (/etc/asterisk/modules.conf -> res_jabber.so and load-> chan_gtalk.so in /etc/asterisk/modules.conf)

1. There are three config files in /etc/asterisk or edit by hand (use vi nano, emacs or whatever you like) jabber.conf gtalk.conf and extensions_custom.conf

   - jabber.conf

     Edit or replace jabber.conf or follow what is listed in Calling Using Google and which I am pasting a them as/asterisk here. (I removed debug=yes.) This establishes the SAPP connection.

     [general] autoprune=yes
     autoregister=yes

     [asterisk] type=client
     port=5222 talk.google.com
     username=your google username@gmail.com/asterisk server=gtalk.google.com secret=
     port=5222
     usetls=yes
     usesasl=yes
     statusmessage="I am an Asterisk Server" timeout=100
     ```

   - gtalk.conf

     Again referring to the Asterisk wiki: edit gtalk.conf thus.

     [general]
     context=from-gmail
     allow=gsm:ulaw
     disallow=all
     ;jbimport=asterisk
     ;bindport=5222
     ;bindaddr=0.0.0.0
     ;autoprune=1 2 3 4   Do you know your extensions.ld are NOT
     ;trustedtls=/usr/local/ssl/certs/ca-bundle.crt  use STUN if you do so dynamic IP and NAT

     [guest] disallow=all
     allow=ulaw
     ```

A dial tone was not detected
Please check the items below then rerun this test.

Other equipment sharing the fax line can reduce the signal strength. Disconnect any equipment which is sharing the fax line (including extension phones, answering machines, and dial up computer modems).

If you are using a splitter or some other device between the fax and the wall jack, remove it and connect the fax directly to the wall jack

If your HP device is connected to a Private Branch Exchange (PBX) rather than the public telephone system, the Dial Tone Detection test may fail. However, you should be able to successfully send and receive faxes.

Refer to your User Guide for more information on the fax test and settings

ÉTAPE 2 Utilisez les menus pour configurer vos paramètres, selon les besoins. Pour plus d'information, consultez le Guide d'administration de l'ATA. (Des liens menant à ces documents sont fournis sous la rubrique Autres renseignements utiles, page 11.)

Utilisation du système RVI pour l'administration

Un système RVI est disponible pour vous aider à configurer et à gérer votre adaptateur pour téléphonie analogique (ATA). Vous pouvez utiliser le clavier du téléphone pour sélectionner les options et entrer vos données.

Pour accéder au menu RVI :

ÉTAPE 1 Raccordez un téléphone analogique au port « Phone » de l'ATA.

ÉTAPE 2 Appuyez à quatre reprises sur la touche étoile : ****

ÉTAPE 3 À la fin du message d'accueil, appuyez sur les touches du clavier téléphonique pour sélectionner les options.

ÉTAPE 4 Entrez le code correspondant à l'action recherchée. Reportez-vous au tableau Actions RVI pour connaître les détails.

CONSEILS :

- Entrez les chiffres lentement, en écoutant la confirmation audio avant d'entrer le chiffre suivant.
- Après avoir sélectionné une option, appuyez sur la touche # (carré).
- Pour quitter le menu, raccrochez le téléphone ou entrez * ou # à clavier.
- Après avoir entré une valeur telle qu'une adresse IP, appuyez sur la touche # (carré) pour indiquer que votre sélection est complète. Pour enregistrer le nouveau paramètre, appuyez sur le 1. Pour vérifier le nouveau paramètre, appuyez sur le 2. Pour recommencer l'entrée du nouveau paramètre, appuyez sur le 3. Pour annuler votre entrée et revenir au menu principal, appuyez sur la touche * (étoile).
- Pour annuler les modifications quand vous entrez une valeur, appuyez deux fois sur la touche * (étoile) en moins d'une demi-seconde. Assurez-vous d'appuyer rapidement sur la touche * (étoile) car le système pourrait l'interpréter comme un point décimal.
- L'ATA s'éteindra si le menu demeure inactif plus d'une minute. Vous devrez de nouveau accéder au menu en appuyant quatre fois sur la touche étoile : * Les paramètres deviennent valides en raccrochant le téléphone ou en quittant le système RVI. Le redémarrage de l'ATA pourrait être amorcé à ce point.

- Pour entrer les points décimaux d'une adresse IP, appuyez sur la touche * (étoile). Par exemple, pour entrer l'adresse IP 191.168.1.105, procédez comme indiqué ci-dessous.
  - Appuyez sur les touches : 191*168*1*105
  - Appuyez sur la touche # (carré) pour indiquer que l'adresse IP entrée est complète.
  - Appuyez sur le 1 pour enregistrer l'adresse IP ou appuyez sur la touche * (étoile) pour annuler l'entrée et revenir au menu principal.

Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes can't open files because they don't have the applications used to create the documents.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software, and operating systems. Fonts and graphics are not lost due to platform, software, and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone.
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web.

6 Implementation

This section describes our implementation. First we discuss the replication library which can be used as a basis for any replicated service. In Section 6.2 we describe how we implemented a replicated NFS on top of the replication library. Then we describe how we maintain checkpoints and compute checkpoint digests efficiently.

6.1 The Replication Library

The client interface to the replication library consists of a single procedure, invoke, with one argument, an input buffer containing a request to invoke a state machine operation. The invoke procedure uses our protocol to execute the requested operation at the replicas and select the correct reply from among the replies of the individual replicas. It returns a pointer to a buffer containing the operation result.

On the server side, the replication code makes a number of upcalls to procedures that the server part of the application must implement. There are procedures to execute requests (execute), to maintain checkpoints of the service state (make_checkpoint, delete_checkpoint), to obtain the digest of a specified checkpoint (get_digest), and to obtain missing information (get_checkpoint, set_checkpoint). The execute procedure receives as input a buffer containing the requested operation encodes the operation, and places the result in an output buffer. The other procedures are discussed further in Sections 6.3 and 6.4.

Point-to-point communication between nodes is implemented using UDP and multicast to the group of replicas is implemented using UDP over IP multicast [7]. There is a single IP multicast group for each service, which contains all the replicas. These communication protocols are unreliable; they may duplicate or lose messages or deliver them out of order.

The algorithm tolerates out-of-order delivery and rejects duplicates. View changes can be used to recover from lost messages, but this is expensive and therefore it is important to perform retransmissions. During normal operation recovery from lost messages is driven by the receiver: backups send negative acknowledgements to the primary when they are out of date and the primary retransmits pre-prepare messages after a long timeout. A reply to a negative acknowledgement may include both a portion of a stable checkpoint and missing messages. During view changes, replicas retransmit view-change messages until they receive a matching new-view message or they move on to a later view.

The replication library does not implement view changes or retransmissions at present. This does not compromise the accuracy of the results given in Section 7 because the rest of the algorithm is completely implemented (including the manipulation of the timers that trigger view changes) and because we have formalized the complete algorithm and proved its correctness [4].

6.2 BFS: A Byzantine-Fault-Tolerant File System

We implemented BFS a Byzantine-fault-tolerant NFS service using the replication library. Figure 2 shows the architecture of BFS. We opted not to modify the kernel NFS client and server because we did not have the sources for the Digital Unix kernel.

A file system exported by the fault-tolerant NFS service is mounted on the client machine like any regular NFS file system. Application processes run unmodified and interact with the mounted file system through the NFS client in the kernel. We rely on user level relay processes to mediate communication between the standard NFS client and the replicas. A relay receives NFS protocol requests, calls the invoke procedure of our replication library, and sends the result back to the NFS client.

Each replica runs a user-level process with the replication library and our NFS V2 daemon, which we will refer to as snfsd (for simple nfsd). The replication library receives requests from the relay interacts with snfsd by making upcalls, and packages NFS replies into replication protocol replies that it sends to the relay.

We implemented snfsd using a fixed-size memory-mapped file. All the file system data structures, e.g., inodes, blocks and free bit lists, are in the mapped file. We rely on the operating system to manage the cache of memory-mapped file pages and to write modified pages to disk asynchronously. The current implementation uses 8KB blocks and inodes contain the NFS status information plus 256 bytes of data, which is used to store directory entries in directories, pointers to blocks in files, and text in symbolic links. Directories and files may also use additional blocks in a way similar to Unix.

One implementation ensures that all state machine

Dragons Calling

Dear dragons

I write these lines as a humble invitation. I write to those who are dragons, walking the planes of this world in human guise.

None of us can deny that we are human. We have human parents, memories of our growing up as human beings, we have human lives now no matter what we once may have been. Still some of us can say to not be a dragon in some way.

Our paths are so very different. Some are at the beginning of their journey and some near the end. What connects us is this feeling, this knowledge, that there is more to this world, to everything around us, to life itself. And yet, we are scattered over the world. There is an obvious "we".

How many dragons have you met on your journey? Who do you call good friends? Who means to you?

No matter how lonesome we all might feel at times and what stories we have to tell we share that special awareness and love for our kind.

What I want to invite you to has nothing to do with doomsday prophecies. I want to invite you all to a moment of awareness and appreciation. December the 21st is the darkest day of the year. We are in the same boat and on the darkest day, let us remember those who are our friends.

On December 21st, take your time to say aloud or whisper the names of those you want to remember. Alone, together with friends, prepared or spontaneous. Some might want to have a list of those they wish to call out at the ready and maybe you want to choose a song that holds an empowering meaning to you. Then light a candle as symbol of we all being a light in the darkness for each other and if you want to, play the song in awareness of maybe hundreds of dragons all doing the same. End the calling of names with "I remember you!"

Again, this has nothing to do with doomsday prophecies and I certainly do not believe the world to end on December the 21st. It just happens to be the shortest day of the year.

Please pass on the link to this page and invite your friends to do the same.

Let it be our calling. The calling of a memory.

- KaDra

WHY WE LOVE OUR OUIJA BOARDS

Believing—or even just hoping—that we can pick the best funds of the future makes us feel better. It gives us the pleasing sensation that we are in charge of our own investment destiny. This "I'm-in-control-here" feeling is part of the human condition, it's what psychologists call overconfidence. Here are just a few examples of how it works:

- In 1999, Money Magazine asked more than 500 people whether their portfolios had beaten the market. One in four said yes. When asked to specify their returns, however, 80% of those investors reported gains lower than the market's. (Four percent had no idea how much their portfolios rose—but were sure they had beaten the market anyway!)
- A Swedish study asked drivers who had been in severe car crashes to rate their own skills behind the wheel. These people—including some the police had found responsible for the accidents and others who had been so badly injured that they answered the survey from their hospital beds—insisted they were better-than-average drivers.
- In a poll taken in late 2000, Time and CNN asked more than 1,000 likely voters whether they thought they were in the top 1% of the population by income. Nineteen percent placed themselves among the richest 1% of Americans.
- In late 1997, a survey of 750 investors found that 74% believed their mutual-fund holdings would "consistently beat the Standard & Poor's 500 each year"—even though most funds fail to beat the S & P 500 in the long run and many fail to beat it in any year.[1]

While this kind of optimism is a normal sign of a healthy psyche, that doesn't make it good investment policy. It makes sense to believe you can predict something only if it actually is predictable. Unless you are realistic, your quest for self-esteem will end up in self-defeat.

B. Amplifier Configuration

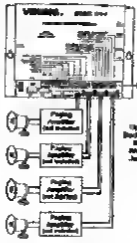
1. Four Amplifier Mode

In this mode each paging zone has its own amplifier and the function of the ZPI-4 is to switch the unamplified paging or background music signal to the appropriate amplifier.

Advantages: There is no amplifier power limitation, zones can be set to different volumes, background music is selectable per zone and the non-paged zones will continue to get music during a page.

To set the ZPI-4 up in the four amplifier mode:

Step 1.	Connect the ZONE 1 paging terminals to the input of the amplifier for Zone 1
Step 2.	If background music is to be enabled on this zone, ensure that the ZONE 1 music shorting link is fitted. Remove both pins, if not, connect the shorting link.
Step 3.	Repeat steps 1 and 2 for each of the remaining three zones.
Step 4.	Install the amplifier between zones the Optional Paging Amp connectorblock.
Step 5.	If a background music source is being used, install the Optional Background Music Amplifier between as shown
Step 6.	Set DIP switch 1 to OFF
Step 7.	Connect Paging Amps between local paging and speakers.



2. Two Amplifier Mode (Paging and Music)

In the two amplifier mode, one amp serves as the paging amplifier and the other as the background music amplifier. The paging or music signal is fed to the external amplifier, returned and the amplified signal is switched by the ZPI-4 to the correct zone or zones.

Advantages: up to a 240 watt amplifier may be used when driving 70V speakers, only (2) amplifiers for one zone amp) are required for 4 zones, background music is selectable per zone, and the non-paged zones will continue to to get music during a page.

Limitations: The paging amp zones, to be limited to 200 watts and the music amp zones to be limited to 70 watts when switching 2 like amplifier inputs each speaker zone is limited to 8 ohms minimum impedance and the amp must have the ability to drive the speakers of all zones. (Example, 4 zones of 8 ohms per zone equals a 2 ohm load during an all call.)

To set up the ZPI-4 in the two amplifier mode:

Step 1	Connect the ZONE 1 zone terminals to the speaker(s) for Zone 1
Step 2.	If background music is to be enabled on the zone, ensure that the ZONE 1 music shorting link is in place, meaning both pins. If background music is not desired, remove the shorting link.
Step 3.	Repeat steps 1 and 2 for each of the remaining three zones.
Step 4.	Attach the paging amplifier and the music amplifier as shown in the diagram.
Step 5.	Set DIP switch 1 to OFF.

2. Detailed information

Safe Mode
This will automatically disable several features in Obvision to make it fully undetectable to programs such as BWChart. Safe Mode disables Stay alive, Drone-float, Zerg mineral hack exploit, Zerg building recycle exploit, Maphack target clicks, Auto build, Auto mine, Auto queue, Selection hack and Restore rally points command.

Zerg Mineral Hack Exploit
Provides you with 514 minerals each time this exploit is used on Larva, Hydralisk or Mutalisk, It may also have different effects on the game when used in UMS games. This also comes with auto cancel and abort protection for units that were never cancelled and hatched.

Zerg Building Recycle Exploit
Gives you back a drone when used on a Hatchery, Lair, Spire or Creep Colony. You will regain 514 minerals + remaining cost to use this exploit, but you will only gain some of your resources back when cancelled.

Selection Hack
Allows you to group and select up to 252 units or buildings of the same type and displays an on-screen unit counter when selecting over 12 units. Use the mus select hotkey / Alt to select all units of the same type that you have currently selected.

Auto Queue
Automatically re-queues units once their built, you can add/remove units for auto queue by using the hotkey F8 or Ctrl + F8 to remove all units. To toggle on/off global auto queue for all buildings use the hotkey F9 and for Subunit auto queue use the hotkey Ctrl + F9. If toggled on Scarabs/Interceptors will begin construction immediately until full and will replenish any lost units in combat.

Maphack
This maphack includes safe clicks (closed-sided clicks), state hack (view pylon power radius), unit content upgrades, researches, summonings, energy, build queue) and has three different modes which are full life and off. These modes can be toggled using the /mh command or the hotkeys Insert or Ctrl + Insert. However it is still possible for maphack to be detected through invisible target clicks (right clicks), so this

"This analysis shows that the amount of gravitational waves can probably be no more than about half the observed signal," says Clem Pryke, a principal investigator of BICEP2 at University of Minnesota, in the USA.

"The new upper limit on the signal due to gravitational waves agrees well with the upper limit that we obtained earlier with Planck using the temperature fluctuations of the CMB," says Brendon Crill, a leading member of both the Planck and BICEP2 teams from NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory in the USA.

"The gravitational wave signal could still be there, and the search is definitely on."

Notes for Editors

"A Joint Analysis of BICEP2/Keck Array and Planck Data" by the BICEP2/Keck and Planck collaboration has been submitted to the journal Physical Review Letters. A draft of the manuscript is available here.

The study combines data from ESA's Planck satellite and from the US National Science Foundation ground-based experiments BICEP2 and the Keck Array, at the South Pole.

The analysis is based on observations of the CMB polarisation on a 400 square degree patch of the sky. The Planck data cover frequencies between 30 GHz and 353 GHz, while the BICEP2 and Keck Array data were taken at a frequency of 150 GHz.

Row 4: ch 1 for color changes. I started changing color after the first 5dc pattern row and changed color after each row. Being that I was using 2 stranded yarns that made things easier and I was able to weave in between the rows. I never found all of the ends of the row. I simply dropped one color picked up the next and went. Now I did NOT worry between the ends. I truly just let it stay there. Between 2 or not, 2 whimsical doesn't mess up the color pattern you are doing. After you have all three colors joined in you will see text when you end it. Now you just push up the strand you just left between. Sounds so damn easy difficult. Then 2 really is, but so damn is mind saver not having to weave in all damn ends.

Also note. Your work might not be the exact same colors as mine. That's cool. 4 might end in a so where I find this. That's cool. If it really just that it do what pattern you want for this where. If your row ends on a sc ch 2 turn. 2dc in first then go with the pattern. If your row ends on a dc group, so is last sc, ch 1 and end all in first the go with the pattern. 2 is really simple once you get used to it.

To start, ch 166 (this gave me the count I was looking for so if you are starting for a thousand and start with a chain last where for your pattern go in third sides and across, dawn 1

go of first dc, sc 2 dc (I spoke said, sc 2 dc (the spoke) what I will call 5dc across, for the rest of the pattern) My pattern count on 2 dc ch 2 and turn

2dc in first st (not last st), sc 2 st, sc in the 3rd dc of the 5 dc shell, sc 2 st, then follow the 5dc pattern until last sc where you only do 3dc, ch 1 and turn sc in first st, dc 2 in, then dawn the 5dc pattern until the last where you sc in that last dc. ch 2 and turn

Now you just dc down last two rows for 72 5dc pattern rows. This down the beginning go down to where the last length (5 ends you are re-doing the pattern).

Row 75: We are going to start going in a whole pattern of rows. Now you might not? Very possibly. Maths sure when you pull the ends together the right side of the first row of 66 is lining out. Or not, either way would be fine I imagine honestly. Just keep the threads of the same varying yarn in the back/inside of the left and pattern colors where it lands best to you 2dc* stand in how I brought the yarn sides together on 1 does work down of it apart because that open things where ch 2ns and doesn't make a gown. Truly, you don't just dc what needs where to you so you look at the work in your hands. As long as you are still doing the 5dc repeat. It will all be good. Just relax and have 2 drink and go with it.

dc to the 1st dc of the row, ch 1 sc in joining, then dropped on with 2 dc pattern.

dc to 1st sc changing colors, ch 2 and 4dc in same sc join. 2 dc pattern to last sc. Now so big last sc for the 3rd dc from the beginning, made sure to pattern color

Ch 1 sc in dawn as join then go on with the 5 dc pattern

From here you wanna the 4dc to just dc in 2 spiral, changing where on you get next. In the start of the spiral. I did a total of 29 rounds counting from the beginning of the simple join. This first the row down to small meaning the first when the first is plunged

Now you get to start bringing it in to 2 sides. So last waves you are about done!

When doing the repeat and color changing around, but instead of the last dc only 5dc, will skipping 2 stitches. On the 2nd the next 4th round only all 1 st in-between the dc and the sc. The 5dc for a total of 2 5dc pattern instead

Then you are going in 5sts, let say this is one between dc's (consider) where the 4dc 2 on would go (in the end dc of the 3 dc group). For your 2nd pattern and every 6th so spot. Then sc big spot, repeat pattern where is the dog so spot. 5dc then go big (in the 2nd dc of the 3 dc group). For your 5dc pattern until repeat 3rd so spot, then so big.

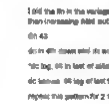
Then 4dc where 3dc, so big over the 4dc 2 sc spot. For your 2nd dc pattern until every 5th sc start, then sc big.

This should cause 1 strand stand up and you think of turning your work pattern and across. The sc strand and pattern where in the 3rd sc, then sc big where every so spot should be for 2 rounds.

Row 81: sc 2 dc* 2 sc so you can go strand and pass the big pattern

Join your yarn on the rounds of the opening where you joined the rounds and so pattern the opening. Playing 2 so in the corners. Stop off and weave in the end.



Feels great to be done with that part doesn't it? Add on to the dawn scales to do in. Again, I dawn it for the leggham I was working on.

Fin

I did the fin in the variegated yarn. If you want 2 single fin, use your pattern skill together. The fin shape will have 2 straight side and the opposite side decreasing in, then increasing 4dc3 out. The pattern side will be the top where you 66 your so to in then sew it on the tail ch 43

dc in 4th down and sc across, ch 2 and turn dc bog, 66 in last of stitches, ch 2 and turn dc between 66 leg of last two dc, ch 2 and turn

Repeat the pattern for 2 rows of 8 down

Now 9th 2 do bog, dc in rest of stitches, ch 2 and turn dc between last sc 2 66 leg to last 8 st, ch 2 and turn

2 66 in ends of the 4dc 2 st, dc across, ch 2 and turn

66 across, put 2 66 in ends of the last 2 dc, ch 2 and turn

*2 66 in first dc, 66 across. 66 2 and turn

I'm sorry chae will you love me long time???

Dear Smog Land Inc,

This Bureau is trying to thin the herd of Smog Stations and Technicians by preventing them from qualifying for the STAR Program

Let's be clear—if a technician or a facility is issued a citation they will not qualify for the STAR Program for one year. This means a former Test Only Station will be essentially NOT OUT OF BUSINESS unable to test directed vehicles

We have developed an ownership structure utilizing the LLC (Limited Liability Company) and a specific operating agreement to protect STAR certification. This will PROTECT BUSINESS OWNERS in the event that a technician is cited as a result of an undercover operation

As the Bureau individually licenses the technician we can insulate the owners from liability for those actions with a specific LLC operating agreement and specialty member structure

This process typically takes about 6 to 8 weeks to complete. You would want this to be in place before October 1 2012 in order to insure one quarter of data to qualify for the STAR Program

HERE'S WHAT WE RECOMMEND TO PROTECT ACCESS TO THE STAR PROGRAM!

- Creation of a California Limited Liability Company under the Corporations Code
- Filing of an LLC with the Secretary of State with 24-hour expedited service
- Creation of Operating Agreement with special provisions to ensure liability protection
- ARD and Smog Station Applications with the Bureau of Automotive Repair
- All Local, State and County Licenses
- Seller's Permit and Hazardous Waste Permit
- Business Agreement between Current Business and new LLC

Complete changeover assistance with no shut down days That would be seamless

The cost for this service, including all filing and application fees with the Bureau, Secretary of State and local agencies is $1 475 00.

Please let us know if we can assist you in protecting your STAR Rating to ensure the LIVELIHOOD OF YOUR BUSINESS

Sincerely

William Ferreira

How to Restore a Rusty Cast Iron Skillet

What You Need

Steel wool
Scrubbing brush or sponge
Dish soap
Dish towel or paper towels
Vegetable oil (or cooking oil of choice)
Aluminum foil

Equipment
Oven

Instructions

1. Remove all the rust: Use fine steel wool to remove rust from affected areas. Scour the skillet until the area returns to raw cast iron.
2. Wash the skillet thoroughly. Wash the cast iron with warm water and mild dish soap. Scrub with bristle brush or mesh sponge if needed.
3. Dry the skillet. Thoroughly dry the cast iron immediately with a clean dish towel or paper towels.
4. Cover the pan with a coating of oil: Apply a small amount of vegetable oil (or cooking oil of choice) to the entire piece, including the bottom and handle. Use only a small amount to avoid a sticky surface.
5. Place the pan in the oven. Place the cast iron upside down on the top rack of your rack. Place a sheet of aluminum foil or a foil-lined baking sheet on the bottom rack to catch any oil drips.
6. Heat the pan for an hour: Heat the cast iron for one hour at 350 degrees.
7. Let the pan cool before using. Turn off heat, let cast iron cool, and then get back to cooking!

CancerTYPE ID — Molecular Classification with CancerTYPE ID

FFPE Tissue Processing & Tumor Enrichment

- CancerTYPE ID requires as few as 300-500 viable tumor cells and is compatible with limited biopsy specimens such as FNAs, cytological specimens, and small core needle biopsies.
- CancerTYPE ID routinely employs laser guided microdissection to enrich for tumor specimen.

Gene Expression Profiling

- CancerTYPE ID uses a robust real-time RT-PCR platform to detect very small differences in gene expression.
- CancerTYPE ID measures and integrates the gene expression of 92 genes, 5 normalization genes and 87 lineage determinant and tissue-specific genes, most of which are not routinely measured by IHC.

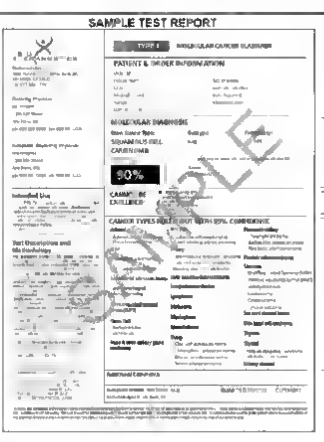
Reference Tumor Database & Algorithm

- CancerTYPE ID uses a computational algorithm to predict the patient's tumor type based on the degree of similarity of the sample's 92-gene expression profile to a reference database of gene expression profiles. The reference database contains gene expression information from over 2,000 tumor specimens of known histogenesis, and representing ~95% of all solid tumors based on incidence.
- The CancerTYPE ID algorithm provides a predicted main type and any sub-types in rank-order by relative probabilities, which are based on the tumor's gene expression similarity to tumors of these types in the reference database.

Molecular Classification

- CancerTYPE ID classifies 28 tumor types and 50 tumor subtypes.
- In an independent validation of 2998 blinded samples, the molecular diagnosis was 87% accurate for main tumor type and 86% accurate for tumor subtype.

SAMPLE TEST REPORT



Interpreting CancerTYPE ID Test Results

MOLECULAR DIAGNOSIS

The [redacted] molecular diagnosis is the CancerTYPE ID prediction of certain tumor subtypes. It is reported probability (≥ 80%), the tumor is reported as "Indeterminate", in this case, the test report will also indicate tumor types that can be ruled out (see below) that cannot be excluded.

CAN NOT BE EXCLUDED

When applicable, tumor types on the CancerTYPE ID reference database that share some gene expression profile similarity to the patient's sample such that they cannot be excluded. Item diagnostic consideration will be listed here in rank order.

RULE OUTS

The CancerTYPE ID test report also lists tumor types that can all be ruled out with 95% confidence. In an independent validation of 2998 blinded samples, the rule-outs were 95% accurate. This may provide useful differential diagnostic information when two or more potential tumor types are suspected and one or more tumors may be ruled out in the rule outs.

When space permits, list references on your resume's second page, instead of using an addendum page for references.

Be sure that your phone number is not Caller ID blocked by your telephone company prior to attempting to send and receive a fax. Pressing 82 before dialing the toll free number will unblock the Caller ID blocking feature in most areas. Other phone company services can prevent you from receiving a fax, including voice mail, call blocking, or call privacy features

NOTE.

Whenever troubleshooting a fax issue, it is good practice to set the Automatic Reports option to Every Error before attempting a test fax. This way, even if the sent fax fails, an error code will be generated that will guide you in future troubleshooting. This option is available in different places on different products, consult the product User's Guide for specific steps

1. Send a one page black and white text fax to 1-888-hpfaxme (1-888-473-2963)
2. When your fax is received by the HP Test Fax Service, we will generate a return fax to you within five minutes confirming that we received your fax. This verifies that you can both send and receive a fax with your fax machine

If you do not receive a return fax within 5-7 minutes, there may be a problem with the setup of your fax machine. Consult the user manual that came with the product for proper setup and configuration

NOTE.

The most common cause of failure is that the Fax number set in the Fax Header on the machine does not match the number of the phone line connected to the fax. Also, ensure that the fax header contains the full 10-digit telephone number of the fax machine, including the area code.

TESTER

The MREs given to the troops always contained toilet paper. The Marines of my vehicle had spent months accumulating these wipes. With that, Mr B grabbed the Ziploc full of TP in the back and hurled it towards me. It landed a good ten feet away from me.

I was already on all fours at this point, with my ass in the air like a god-damn Fergie video. I crawled on all fours with my head down, just wanting to make it to the TP. It was becoming a race for time. When I reached my destination, I knew that I could not solve this problem with a simple wipe of my ass. There was a problem to solve and I needed to find the most probable solution. I grabbed the wipe with the laughter still ringing in the background. I shuffled it around, twisting it, smoothing it, molding it until it became what my fellow Marines would later refer to as a work of art. It was perfectly soft, ergonomic and phallic in design. It would be used to plug what I had self-admitted I had no control over anymore. It became standard for the Marines who would become sick later. It became known as the MAN-PON. I then did what all of you are expecting.. I shoved it up my ass to plug the uncontrollable.

Afterwards, I reluctantly double timed my way back to the vehicle with my head down.

BOOM!!!

The C-4 detonated the thousand pounds or so of small-arms weapons while this relieved Teufel Hunden walked back to my comrades. Lucky for me, there was an empty ammo can I was able to use to scrub the thrush soaked stains from the rear of my trousers. I was still sick, tired, and embarrassed from the couple of hours my world was turned upside down.

The next few nights, I volunteered for every single watch throughout the day and night. It didn't matter how much sleep I would lose, or how much boredom I would endure. I would do anything to avoid falling back asleep. The MAN-PON held up strong throughout the next few days, and while I came upon this solution through my own misery, the Marines of our battalion would adopt it as the standard practice to combat explosive situations.

To Our Readers

After Tucson. The shootings in Arizona have prompted a national conversation on guns, mental illness and the state of our political discourse

ONE OF THE WORDS THE FOLKS SAVED IN Tucson is that we're all awake to a few of things. It's about maintenance. We often forget only when those there may be none. The violence can lead to simplistic solutions that don't necessarily resolve. For most people, that's not a problem—but as a columnist trying to find meaning in what can seem as if it's what's the Arizona we need to get it right.

For the past week, Americans have been trying to make sense of a senseless act of violence. They have called the question on the role of politics, guns and mental illness, with accuracy. That's as it should be. But if discussion has quickly, all-too predictable, pitted the Left and Right against the right to say something doesn't mean you should.

We've seen it before. Every political assassination or attempt by a lone gunman or terrorist does not reveal a broader conspiracy to overturn democracy. That's the standard in Brandenburg v. Ohio, the Supreme Court's defining case on free speech. "Mere advocacy of use of violence, however violent, does not violate the First Amendment, and that includes us. Which, don't kill, people gathered in an open and free society, we don't police speech. But we do police the people who do the dirty, criminal things with guns and bombs. Our task is not to restrict speech but to restrict access to weapons by those who should not have them.

Try not to make points at all. Members of Congress and assemble outside the home of Rep. Gabrielle Giffords after a mass shooting outside a Tucson supermarket Saturday

This piece is not to reflect the complexity of what happened in Tucson and as it unfolds. When the story broke, news director Howard Fischer—a respected Arizona Republican who had written a piece on the political climate in Arizona last year and sent it to the state. Local reporting Adam Klawonn was speaking for Tucson Police Chief Chief Deputy Sheriff Clarence Dupnik, and Mike Chihuahua, who is the state's chief executive officer. Cover your cough

Why should I cover my cough?

Serious respiratory illnesses like influenza respiratory syncytial virus (RSV), whooping cough and Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS) are spread by:

- Coughing or sneezing
- Unclean hands

These illnesses spread easily in crowded places where people are in close contact.

How do I stop the spread of germs if I am sick?

- Cover your nose and mouth with a tissue every time you cough or sneeze. Throw the used tissue in a waste basket.
- If you don't have a tissue, sneeze or cough into your sleeve.
- After coughing or sneezing, always cleanse your hands with soap and water or an alcohol-based hand cleanser.
- Stay home if you are sick.
- Do not share eating utensils, drinking glasses, towels or other personal items.

How can I stay healthy?

- Cleanse your hands often with soap and water or an alcohol-based hand cleanser.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose or mouth.
- Avoid close contact with people who are sick, if possible.
- Get vaccinated[1] Influenza (flu) and pneumococcal (pneumonia) vaccines can prevent some serious respiratory illnesses.

When you are at a clinic or hospital

- Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue and dispose of the used tissue in the waste basket.
- Cleanse your hands with soap and water or an alcohol-based hand cleanser.
- You may also be asked to wear a mask to protect others.
- Don't worry if you see staff and other people wearing masks. They are preventing the spread of germs.

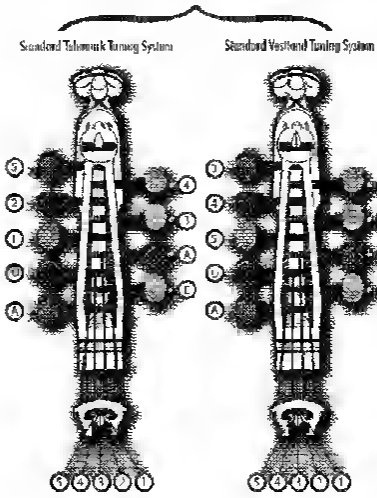
Typical Hardanger String Configuration and tuning



String order

Most Hardangers fiddle use the Telemark system for under string order. From front to back the strings are tuned as follows: A, E, U, 3rd, 2nd, 1st. Some fiddlers prefer the Vestland system where the U and E strings are reversed.

Tuning Fine tuners and pegs

The under strings are very light gauge strings (.020 to .024 inch) and will break easily. Make sure you know the tuning order and the fine tuner system. You can use a peg to tune them or the fine tuners. Tuning on the under strings can be very difficult and will cause the fine tuners to fail easily.

Alternative under strings

The under strings are tuned to the 2nd, 1st, A, E, U strings and are 24 gauge strings (.024 inch). The 2nd string is 20 gauge strings 3 and 4 should be attached to the fine wire hook on the tail piece. 3, 2, and 1 are all the same gauge strings and are tuned to the same

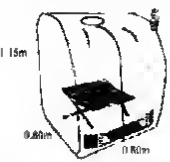
Unique Features

1. Specially designed Sauna Tent with Radiator Fan
The Sauna Tent uses a specially designed cloth with silver embedded in it which acts as a mirror, reflecting FIR Energy from all surfaces of the tent. You do not need electrical wiring (potential EMF) or panels all over the inside surface of the tent or wooden cabin in order to absorb the healing light into all surfaces of your body. An incredible amount of heat is produced in transforming the electrical energy into 4-14 micron Far Energy. So each Radiator fan blows this heat away from the semi conductor chips so that FIR energy will be continuous providing the experience of a hot spring bath without the stuffiness or other discomforts of mineral baths.



- Special reflective cover material and the FIR whirl fan ensure energy is evenly distributed within the FIR cabinet. The body enjoys an experience similar to a hot spring bath.
- Even heat distribution with benefits comparable to a hot spring dip.

2 The Relax Far Infrared Ray Sauna is easy to clean. The cover (tent) does not stain and remains odor free even after long periods of usage, unlike traditional saunas made of wood.

3 The specially designed cover (tent) does not absorb "direct heat energy". There is no need to preheat or warm-up the equipment. It is very convenient compared to wooden and other sauna cabinets.
- Use the Relax Far Infrared Ray Sauna every morning for 15 minutes to help boost your body's energy for the day - similar to going for a jog.
- After work use Relax Far Infrared Ray Sauna for 15 minutes to relieve stress. Toxins accumulated in the body during the day will be eliminated. FIR energy is as relaxing as soaking in a hot bath.

4 The patented Energy sources are auto-temperature controlled Far Infrared Ray ceramic semiconductor radiators which do not cause burns, so the Relax FIR Sauna is 100% safe.

CancerTYPE ID

Molecular Classification with CancerTYPE ID

FFPE Tissue Processing & Tumor Enrichment

- CancerTYPE ID requires as few as 300-500 viable tumor cells and is compatible with limited biopsy specimens such as FNAs, cytological specimens, and small core needle biopsies
- CancerTYPE ID routinely employs laser guided microdissection to enrich for tumor specimen

Gene Expression Profiling

- CancerTYPE ID uses a robust real-time RT-PCR platform to detect very small differences in gene expression
- CancerTYPE ID measures and integrates the gene expression of 92 genes, 5 normalization genes and 87 lineage determinant and tissue-specific genes, most of which are not routinely measured by IHC

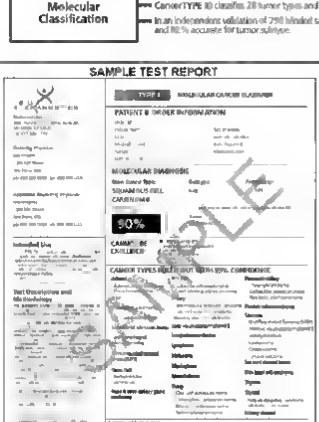
Reference Tumor Database & Algorithm

- CancerTYPE ID uses a computational algorithm to predict the patient's tumor type based on the degree of similarity of the sample's 92-gene expression profile to a reference database of gene expression profiles. The reference database contains gene expression information from over 2,000 tumor specimens of known histogenesis, and representing ~95% of all solid tumors based on incidence
- the CancerTYPE ID algorithm provides a predicted main type and any sub-types in rank-order by relative probabilities, which are based on the tumor's gene expression similarity to tumors of these types in the reference database

Molecular Classification

- CancerTYPE ID classifies 28 tumor types and 50 tumor subtypes.
- In an independent validation of 2998 blinded samples, the molecular diagnosis was 87% accurate for main tumor type and 86% accurate for tumor subtype.

SAMPLE TEST REPORT



Interpreting CancerTYPE ID Test Results

MOLECULAR DIAGNOSIS
The tumor type with the highest probability is reported as the molecular diagnosis. In this example, the patient's tumor has 90% probability of matching squamous cell carcinoma (non-lung subtype) within the CancerTYPE ID reference database. If the highest probability is <70% the tumor is reported as indeterminate. In this case, the test report will still indicate tumor types that can be ruled out and those that cannot be excluded.

CAN NOT ID EXCLUDED
When applicable, tumor types from the CancerTYPE ID reference database that show some gene expression profile similarity to the patient's sample such that they cannot be excluded from diagnostic consideration will be listed here in relative rank order

RULE OUTS
The CancerTYPE ID test report also lists tumor types that can all be ruled-out with 95% confidence. In an independent validation of 2998 blinded reported Rule-outs were 95% accurate. This may provide useful differential diagnostic information when two or more potential tumor types are suspected and one or more cannot may be indicated in the test note.

FAX TEST

Support details

Introduction

This document will assist you in testing your HP Fax machine using the HP Fax Test Service

Print this document for easy reference by clicking the Printable Version link in the upper right corner of this page

Test your fax machine

To test the capability of your fax machine, follow the directions below.

NOTE Be sure that your phone number is not Caller ID blocked by your telephone company prior to attempting to send and receive a fax. Pressing *82 before dialing the toll free number will unblock the Caller ID blocking feature in most areas. Other phone company services can prevent you from receiving a fax, including voice mail, call blocking, or call privacy features.

NOTE Whenever troubleshooting a fax issue, it is easy practice to set the Automatic Reports option to Every Error before attempting a test fax. This way, even if the test fax fails, an error code will be generated that will guide you in future troubleshooting. This option is available in different places on different products, consult the product User's Guide for specific steps.

1. Send a one page blank and white test fax to 1-888-hpfaxme (1-888-473-2963)
2. When your fax is received by the HP Test Fax Service, we will generate a return fax to you within five minutes confirming that we received your fax. This verifies that you can both send and receive a fax with your fax machine

If you do not receive a return fax within 5-7 minutes, there may be a problem with the setup of your fax machine. Consult the user guides that came with the product for proper setup and configuration.

NOTE The most common cause of failure is that the fax number set in the Fax Header on the machine does not match the number of the phone line connected to the fax. Also ensure that the fax header contains the full 10-digit telephone number of the fax machine including the area code.

For more information or assistance, click Contact HP at the top of this page

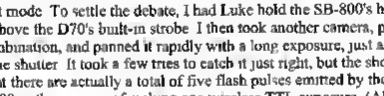
Caught in the Act, Advanced Wireless Lighting in Action

This really has nothing to do with the D70 and SB-800's photographic capabilities, but it's a cool picture, so I thought I'd share it Luke and I were debating how many flash pulses we thought we were seeing coming from the D70 and SB-800 in wireless TTL mode while we were measuring the shutter lag in that mode To settle the debate, I had Luke hold the SB-800's head directly above the D70's built-in strobe I then took another camera, pointed it at the combination, and panned it rapidly with a long exposure, just as Luke pressed the shutter It took a few tries to catch it just right, but the shot above shows that there are actually a total of five flash pulses emitted by the D70 and SB-800 in the process of making one wireless TTL exposure (All this happens in about 0 6 seconds)



Here's what I think is happening in the shot above

1 D70 fires a "wake up" series of command pulses, to get the attention of any remotes that might be out there, lying dormant. (Note that what looks like a single bright flash here is actually a very rapid series of communication pulses, carrying digital data from the D70 to the remotes)

2 D70 fires a command pulse stream to instruct the remote(s) to get ready

IMPORTANT TERMS – PLEASE READ THIS

§ DISPUTE RESOLUTION BY BINDING ARBITRATION.

2.1 Summary of Arbitration Agreement. Please read this carefully. It affects your rights. Most customer concerns can be resolved quickly and to the customer's satisfaction by calling our customer service department at 1-800-331-0500. In the unlikely event that AT&T's customer service department is unable to resolve a complaint you may have to your satisfaction (or if AT&T has not been able to resolve a dispute it has with you after attempting to do so informally), we each agree to resolve those disputes through binding arbitration or small claims court instead of in courts of general jurisdiction. Arbitration is more informal than a lawsuit in court. Arbitration uses a neutral arbitrator instead of a judge or jury, allows for more limited discovery than in court, and is subject to very limited review by courts. Arbitrators can award the same damages and relief that a court can award. Any arbitration under this Agreement will take place on an individual basis; class arbitrations and class actions are not permitted. For any non-frivolous claim that does not exceed $75,000, AT&T will pay all costs of the arbitration. Moreover in arbitration you are entitled to recover attorneys' fees from AT&T to the same extent as you would be in court.

In addition, under certain circumstances (as explained below) AT&T will pay you more than the amount of the arbitrator's award and will pay you also pay (if any) twice the reasonable attorneys' fees of the arbitration awards you an amount that is greater than what AT&T has offered you to settle the dispute.

2.2 Arbitration Agreement

(1) AT&T and you agree to arbitrate all disputes and claims between us. This agreement to arbitrate is intended to be broadly interpreted. It includes, but is not limited to:

- claims arising out of or relating to any aspect of the relationship between us, whether based in contract, tort, statute, fraud, misrepresentation or any other legal theory;
- claims that arose before this or any prior Agreement (including, but not limited to, claims relating to advertising);
- claims that are currently the subject of purported class action litigation in which you are not a member of a certified class; and
- claims that may arise after the termination of this Agreement.

References to "AT&T," "you," and "us" include our respective subsidiaries, affiliates, agents, employees, predecessors in interest, successors, and assigns, as well as all authorized or unauthorized users or beneficiaries of services or devices under this or prior Agreements between us. Notwithstanding the foregoing, either party may bring an individual action in small claims court. This arbitration agreement does not preclude you from bringing issues to the attention of federal, state or local agencies, including, for example, the Federal Communications Commission. Such agencies can, if the law allows, seek relief against us on your behalf. You agree that, by entering into this Agreement, you and AT&T are each waiving the right to a trial by jury or to participate in a class action. This Agreement evidences a transaction in interstate commerce, and this arbitration provision is governed by the Federal Arbitration Act, governing its interpretation and enforcement of this provision. This arbitration provision shall survive termination of this Agreement.

(2) A party who intends to seek arbitration must first send to the other, by certified mail, a written Notice of Dispute ("Notice"). The Notice to AT&T should be addressed to: Office for Dispute Resolution, AT&T, 4331 Lenox Park Blvd., Suite GA 3003-9 ("Notice Address"). The Notice must (a) describe the nature and basis of the claim or dispute; and (b) set forth the specific relief sought ("Demand"). If AT&T and you do not reach an agreement to resolve the claim within 30 days after the Notice is received, you or AT&T may commence an arbitration proceeding. During the arbitration, the amount of any settlement offer made by AT&T or you shall not be disclosed to the arbitrator until after the arbitrator determines the amount, if any, to which you or AT&T is entitled. You may download or copy a form Notice and a fee to initiate arbitration at att.com/arbitration-forms.

(3) After AT&T receives notice at the Notice Address that you have commenced arbitration, it will promptly reimburse you for your payment of the filing fee, unless your claim is for greater than $75,000. The filing fee currently is $200 for claims under $10,000 but is subject to change by the arbitration provider. If you are unable to pay this fee, or if it will pay it directly upon receiving a written request at the Notice Address, the arbitration will be governed by the Consumer Arbitration Rules ("AAA Rules") of the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"), as modified by this Agreement, and will be administered by the AAA. The AAA Rules are available online or by calling the AAA at 1-800-778-7879, or by writing to the Notice Address. (You may obtain information that is not used for non-lawyers about the arbitration process at att.com/arbitration-information.) The arbitrator is bound by the terms of this Agreement. All issues are for the arbitrator to decide, except that issues relating to the scope and enforceability of the arbitration provision are for the court to decide. Unless AT&T and you agree otherwise, any arbitration hearings will take place in the county (or parish) of your billing address. If your claim is for $10,000 or less, we agree that you may choose whether the arbitration will be conducted solely on the basis of documents submitted to the arbitrator, through a telephonic hearing, or by an in-person hearing as established by the AAA Rules. If your claim exceeds $10,000, the right to a hearing will be determined by the

TEST

24 SEQUENTIAL CIRCUITS

Digital systems are divided into two major groups.

1. Combinational Systems are those that have no "feedback loops" in their schematics. That is, there is no pathway from the output of a component at level n in the schematic that is connected to an input of another component at level m, where $m < n$. All of the examples up to this point share this property and therefore they are all examples of combinational systems.

   As described previously, to formally define a combinational system, a behavioral description must identify two sets and a function, specifically:

   - The input set, I. This consists of all possible binary sequences that can be delivered to the digital system. Thus if there are 3 inputs in the entity definition there are 2^3 possible input sequences.
   - The output set, O. This consists of all "valid" output sequences that can be output from the system. Each valid output sequence corresponds to an encoding of some meaningful result. With n output ports there are up to 2^n possible output binary sequences, although not all of them may be meaningful.
   - The output function, $f: I \rightarrow O$. This function defines what output sequence will be generated by the digital system for each input binary sequence.

2. Sequential Systems are those that possess one or more feedback loops. Because of the propagation delay introduced by components along any path, feedback loops enable circuits to be designed that possess memory.

   The formal specification of sequential systems includes the specification of the input and output sets and an output function. However an additional set S called the state set must also be defined. Each "state" represents a distinct binary sequence that can be stored in memory. Digital systems can be designed to provide memory for storing any number of bits. In a digital system possessing n bits of memory there are 2^n possible binary sequences of length n that can be stored in that digital system.

   Digital systems are often referred to as "being in a particular state." This simply means that the memory of the digital system is currently set to a particular value that value being a binary sequence of length n, where n is the number of bits of memory within the system. The state set therefore represents all valid binary sequences that can be stored in the digital system. Each meaningful binary sequence that can be stored defines one state of the system.

   The output from a sequential system will depend not only on the input but also on the value stored in memory. Therefore the output function is a function of two arguments: the state and the input. That is $f: S \times I \rightarrow O$.

   An additional function g called the state-transition function must also be identified to provide a complete behavioral description. The purpose of this function is to describe how the contents of memory is changed by the digital system. Since any new value stored in memory (called the 'next state') will depend on both the current state and the input, g is also a function of two arguments: that is $g: S \times I \rightarrow S$.

Therefore when providing a functional specification of a sequential system, information about the effect of memory on the outputs must be addressed, along with whether any

CASH MARKETS. Preving lest week's collepse in Chicago gesoline wes both premeture end overdone, it hes bounced back 21 cents todey. Two Chicego news item heve fueled this. One is the shutdown of the 97,900 BPD crude unit at BP's Whiting, IN refinery. The other is Keystone Pipeline that wes delivers severel hundred thousand barrels per dey of crude oil to Chicago erea refiners that had to cease pumping when e test indicated some difficulty. The line's closure is expected to be for just 3 days, so it mey not post too much of e problem as most refiners heve some inventory cushion and other sources to fell beck on. But if it is prolonged we could begin to see some runs cuts. In other markets, we saw the Group 3 strengthen. Gasoline on still low supplies end diesel because there's still no big sellers to take us on down the chert line. Aah, but there will be. And the Gulf coast continued to see values slide as refineries down there keep churning out supply.

MARKET OVERVIEW: I read a headline this morning (In the Christian Science Monitor) claiming that there wes e new dynamic at work in the oil industry wherein increased crude oil supply is chesing weaker demand in the world. New supply is clearly coming on line in North America and in Iraq. Demand is weaker in the U. S. end Europe even as demand growth in Asia hes begun to languish. The conclusion is that this would cause e 5 year hear market in energy prices. This is e very real scenerio' Today's economic news only serves to bolster such e view even though short term data (weekly, to quarterly) ere generelly more indicative of micro-economic trends unless it is consistent with the lerger trend. Todey we had a big jump in jobless claims (up 46,000) more then offsetting lest week's decline that epparently did not count Californie's data. More directly involved in the trend is thet lest querter's GDP wes up just 1.3% which is way too slow to spur demand for energy products. Also new hiring wes just 116,000 well below the level needed to just meet the population growth, much less really lower the unemployment rate, even were this report somehow menipulated. (Surely not!) So even though the economy hes some indications of growth and strength, none of them ere overpowering. Me thinks e lot depends on this election end the months following. One thing's for surel the world does not need Iranien crude oil, so thet risk of supply disruption is losing its grip on oil prices.
